ANGLO-FRENCH DRIVE GAINS IN POWER

ALL ATLANTA READY FOR GREAT PARADE IN HONOR TO FLAG

Marchers Will Start From State Capitol at 9 O'Clock and Will Disband at Corner of Forrest Avenue and Peachtree.

OVER 30,000 GEORGIANS ARE EXPECTED IN LINE

Women and Children Will Line Sidewalks, Singing Patriotic Songs and Waving United States Flags This Morning.

All Atlanta is decorated and all her people are ready for the great "preparedness parade" which will start at 9 o'clock this morning from the capitol, and march down Mitchell street to Whitehall, turning there and continuing up Whitehall and Peachtree streets to the corner of Forrest avenue and Peachtree, where it will disband.

At 11 o'clock Monday morning Grand Marshall Pomeroy held a meeting with his aides, the division commanders, and the unit leaders. The full details of the parade were rehearsed and everything is now ready.

Thirty thousand are expected to be in the line of march, and a host of women and children will stand on the sidewalks waving United States flags while they sing patriotic songs. It will truly be a royal Fourth.

Executive Committeemen.

The members of the executive committee who are not division commanders or section leaders are requested to meet at the corner of Mitchell and Washington streets at 8:30 o'clock to make preparations for entering the parade.

The mayors of Georgia towns who will march are requested to report as soon as they arrive to the grand marshal, who will be on the steps of the capitol, facing Mitchell street.

The out-of-town citizens who will take part in the parade are requested to go at once to the Washington street viaduct and join the "Citizens of Georgia" division.

The only vehicles allowed in the procession will be those assigned to the members of the Grand Army of the Republic and the old confederate veterans, who are not able to march. These will report on the corner of Washington and Mitchell streets at 8:30 o'clock to Captain J. C. Huff, aide to General A. J. West, commander of Division No. 2.

The Atlanta architects, under the leadership of Preston Arkwright, will meet on Hunter street, from Washington, facing west at 8:30 o'clock.

Federal Building Division.

The federal building division will be headed by Postmaster Bolling H. Jones and District Attorney Hooper Alexander. It will include the department of justice, the postoffice clerks, the railway mail service, the civil service, the marshall's office and the army and navy. Probably 500 will march in this section.

The Atlanta Audit company will count the people in the parade.

Charlie Frank, manager of the Atlanta ball club, has announced that the morning game will be called off, which is an exception to the rule in baseballdom, and instead there will be a double-header in the afternoon, the first game beginning at 2:30.

Immediately after the parade there will be the flag raising, at Piedmont Park, which is expected to be an inspiring and picturesque event. Those in charge of the flag raising are the executive committee of the parade and the editors of the three Atlanta papers. All are cordially invited to be present. There will be good music to accompany the exercises.

Preparedness Parade.

Organizations will march in units of columns of eight—the distance between squads of same units is three paces; between units of the same divisions, six paces, and between divisions, fifteen paces.

Divisions will enter the parade and march in numerical order. Division No. 1 will form on Mitchell street, head at Washington street, facing west, at 8:30 Tuesday morning and march in the following order: Platoon of Atlanta police, W. M. Mayo, chief; grand marshal and aides; official band; Governor Harris and staff, statehouse officials and members of the general assembly; the general committees, Walter P. Andrews chairman; uniformed members of the United States army, navy and national guard; mayors and delegations of Georgia cities, who will assemble on the capitol steps, facing Washington street; the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, V. H. Kriegshaber president.

The second division will be commanded by Asa G. Candler and will form on Washington street, facing south, head on Mitchell street, and extending, if necessary, on Hunter street, west, at 8:30, and march in order as follows: Boy Scouts' band; the Old Guard, Major George M. Pope commanding, special escort to confederate and union veterans; Confederate Veterans, General A. J. West commander; Union Veterans, Colonel W. M. Scott commander; the Boy Scouts of America, Bayne Gibson scout commander; United German-American societies, H. Steinichen leader; Atlanta Scottish association, J. A. Forsyth leader; Greek-American society, G. Algiers leader; Woodman of the World, William Trautwein leader, and French-American, Dr. F. E. May leader.

Division No. 3 will be commanded by Judge William T. Newman, and will form in the following order, on Washington street, facing north, head on Mitchell street at 8:30 a. m., and march in the following order: Lawrenceville, Ga., band; federal building officials and employees, Bolling H. Jones leader; courthouse officials and employees, Amos Baker leader; city hall officials and employees, Claud L. Ashley leader; Atlanta Commercial Exchange, E. P. McBurney leader.

Division No. 4 will be commanded by Colonel Frederic J. Paxon, and will form in the following order on the east side of the Washington street viaduct, head on Hunter street, facing south, at 8:30, and march in the following order:

Weidermeyer's band; retail merchants, E. H. Cone leader. (Will form at Auditorium and march to designated place); bottlers and mineral waters, Lee Hagan leader;

Sunday Movie Shows Under Ban in State If This Bill Passes

Representative Neill Introduces Bill to Stop All Public Performances of Any Nature on Sabbath.

Representative W. C. Neill, of Muscogee county, would clamp down tightly the lid upon the Sunday movie.

Under a bill he introduced in the house yesterday, Georgia on the Sabbath would be as devoid of visible merriment as in the death chamber at Sing Sing on an unusually busy day.

A former legislature enacted a law under which all theaters—movies and otherwise—and kindred amusement places can be run on Sunday, provided that no admission fee is charged. Under it many picture show houses are given over to charitable institutions and organizations during Sunday of each week, with the understanding that no patron will be compelled to pay a fixed admittance fee, but is expected to voluntarily give according to his fancy in the name of charity, for the privilege of enjoying the film performance. The money thus paid is not paid to any representative of the theater, but to a doorkeeper representing the club, society, guild or whatever charitable organization may be the beneficiary of the theater management.

This Neill bill, though, would stop even that, for it specifically stipulates against thus keeping motion picture theaters open on Sunday, and includes with them all theaters, concert halls, circuses, race courses and all other popular forms of amusement.

MILLS IS NOMINATED FOR MAJOR GENERAL

He Heads List of Army Promotions Under New Reorganization Law.

Washington, July 3.—Promotions of officers under the army reorganization act, by which Brigadier General Albert L. Mills, now chief of the division of militia affairs, will become a major general and five colonels will become brigadier generals, were submitted to the senate today by President Wilson.

The colonels chosen for promotion are Charles G. Morton, Fifth infantry; Granger Adams, Fifth field artillery; George A. Dodd, cavalry, unassigned; Edward H. Plummer, Twenty-eighth infantry, and Clarence P. Townsley, of the coast artillery corps. Four lieutenant colonels were nominated to be colonels, eleven majors to be lieutenant colonels, twenty-one captains to be majors, thirty-one first lieutenants to be captains, and twehty-nine second lieutenants to be first lieutenants.

General Mills has been in the service since 1874. As a cavalry officer he distinguished himself in the Indian wars and in the battle of Santiago, Cuba, where he was severely wounded. In 1912 he served as president of the army war college. He became chief of the militia division in September, 1912, and in that capacity has had active charge of the national guard mobilization now in progress.

General Morton returned to the United States last month after a two years' detail in the canal zone. He entered the service in 1879. During the Spanish war he was assigned to duty with national guard units of the east and south, but fought with his regiment in the Philippines during the uprising of 1900. Colonel Adams, long recognized as an artillery expert, at present is at Fort Sill, Okla. His service dates from 1876 and he will be retired next September.

Colonel Dodd, now on duty in Mexico, attracted wide attention by his cavalry dash at Guerrero last March, when he went into a successful action against a superior force of bandits after a ride of 55 miles in seventen hours. He won promotion for gallantry at Santiago and in the Philippines. He is 63 years old and retires July 26 next.

During his thirty-nine years of service Colonel Plummer has filled many assignments throughout the west. He was recommended for promotion for bravery at Santiago and saw service in the Philippine campaign and the Vera Cruz expedition. He now is on the Mexican border. Colonel Townsley has just completed four years' duty as superintendent of the West Point Military academy and is on leave. Both he and Colonel Plummer retire in September, 1919.

PROMOTION ASSURED FOR CAPT. KIMBROUGH

He Will Be Made Lieutenant Colonel and Service With Georgia Troops.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, July 3.—(Special.)—Captain J. M. Kimbrough, of the regular army, who for the last four years has been detailed for service with the national guard of Georgia, will be elevated to the grade of lieutenant colonel and assigned to the Georgia troops for service on the border.

This will be good news to the officers and men at Camp Harris, who have come to admire Captain Kimbrough as an officer and administrator. He is a native of Griffin, Ga., and his promotion was strongly urged by Representative Wise, a member of house military affairs committee; Representative Crisp, of the third district, and William J. Harris, of the federal trade commission.

54 TURKISH VESSELS SUNK BY THE RUSSIANS

Petrograd, July 3.—(Via London.)—Russian torpedo boats destroyed fifty-four enemy sailing vessels in the Black sea near the Anatolian coast on June 29, says an official statement.

London, July 3.—The British steamship Moeris, 3,409 tons gross, has been sunk. No information has been received regarding the fate of the crew.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE NAMED TO PREPARE JUNE MONEY SHEET

Council Takes Unusual Action in Effort to Reach Some Agreement With the Mayor Over Apportionment of City Funds.

CITY COMPTROLLER AND MAYOR ON COMMITTEE

Council Has No Authority to Take Such Action, Asserts Woodward, in Declaring His Intention of Refusing to Serve.

On motion of Councilman Edwin Johnson yesterday afternoon a special committee composed of Mayor Woodward, chairman; J. H. Goldsmith, city comptroller; Councilman Inman, Councilman Farlinger and Alderman Thomson was appointed to draw another June finance sheet to be submitted to the next meeting of council.

The motion was made following the reading of the mayor's veto message on the sheet prepared by the committee and passed by both council and the aldermanic board. The message was ordered filed. There was no attempt made to override the veto.

Just previous to the appointment of the special committee Alderman Thomson moved that the three candidates for mayor, Alderman Armistead, Councilman Ashley and Alderman Kelley, be appointed a committee of three to make up another sheet. This motion was lost.

Woodward Not Willing.

When told of the action of council in appointing the special committee of which he is the chairman Mayor Woodward indicated very clearly that he would have nothing to do with the work of getting a finance sheet.

"Council has no authority to appoint either Mr. Goldsmith or the mayor on such a committee," he said. "They might as well get a committee from the citizens at large. The charter does not provide for any such action. It expressly states that the finance committee shall be appointed by the mayor at the beginning of the year and outlines that the duties of this committee shall be the fixing of the city finances.

"I could not legally serve on such a committee if I wanted to do it. I certainly have nothing to do with the fixing of the finance sheet."

"What solution have you to offer for the present financial condition?" he was asked.

"There is no solution," he answered. "If you spent $1,000 how would you start getting it back again?" The same thing applies in the case of council and the city finances. They have gotten the city in its present mess and it is up to them to get it out. As I said in my veto message, I will have nothing to do with the proposition. I will not be held responsible for any part of the present condition on any condition which may arise in the future."

Embarrassed, That's All.

"Where do you think council and the city government is headed at the present rate?" he was questioned.

"It seems to me that question answers itself. The government will not be affected, except to be embarrassed, for the city can't be sued for bad bills that it is unable to pay. But each member of council can be held personally responsible for the contracts they make as members of general council, provided they do not state at the time of the passage of the paper providing for payment just how they voted on the proposition.

"It seems to me that council has two things they can do. One is to pass the finance sheet over my veto, for I will not sign anything they present, and the other is to turn the finances of the city over to the comptroller and the mayor for the rest of this term and let us pay for everything cash. We will go as far as we can with the money and I promise that nothing that can be done will be slighted.

"I don't see how the mayor can be appointed by council to serve on a committee and then pass on his own acts as an executive officer. The city is now left just where it was at first The sheet should have been referred to the finance committee. I am surprised that my veto was not overridden."

A communication was read from J. H. Goldsmith, city comptroller, stating that the city has recently paid out about $351,000 on calls that were not completed this year. He further stated that the borrowing capacity of the city for any one year has been set at $409,000 and the city is now drawn to the full limit. He urged that council do something to take care of current expenses for the months of July and August. His statement was ordered filed.

May Be No Money Sheet.

The failure of council Monday to pass the sheet over the veto of the mayor leaves the matter just where it has been for the past month. It is now generally thought that there will be no finance sheet made for the remainder of this year.

"I don't believe they will have any finance sheet for June," said Mayor Woodward Monday. "In that case the only thing they can do will be to handle each month as it comes with the money in the treasury without any special funds being set aside for any special purpose. I don't care what the city attorney says on the matter of the passage of the June sheet by council after the first meeting in June. In my opinion it will not be legal and I am going by the charter."

Committee Legal—Mayson.

City Attorney James L. Mayson, when asked about the legality of the appointment of the committee, said: "It makes no difference what committee draws the finance sheet. The

SECOND REGIMENT EXPECTS TO LEAVE FOR BORDER SOON

All Arrangements Are Being Made to Move Part of Georgia Soldiers Before Week Is Out—Fifth Will Follow Immediately.

Soldiers Will Pass Through Atlanta.

Mobilization Camp Harris, Ga.—July 3.—(Special.)—Officials of Camp Harris have been definitely notified that the Georgia troops will be sent within a few days, either to El Paso or San Antonio, Texas.

The best news of all is the announcement that the troops will pass through Atlanta on their way from Macon to the Texas post.

BY BRITT CRAIG,
(Staff Correspondent.)

Macon, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—Simultaneously with the official announcement this afternoon that the Second regiment infantry would entrain for the border within a day or so after July 6, Captain Hal Morrison, of the brigade quartermaster corps, opened bids for travel rations from the Macon market.

It is semi-officially said that the Georgia guard will be dispatched to El Paso, Texas, which is on the immediate international boundary. Bids for rations to be consumed en route to the field must be in no later than next Thursday and subject to immediate delivery.

In this connection, General Walter Harris announced that he could use at least 1,000 more recruits, and with a view to bringing new men into the ranks inaugurated garrison recruiting offices with Captain A. F. Quillian in command. Recruiting has lagged for the past several days, but the early summons to action is expected to stimulate it.

Rations for Four Days.

The bulk of the rations to be purchased Thursday are 12,000 pounds of white bread. A supply to last four days will be put aboard the train. It will also include 9,000 pounds of corn beef and 3,000 pounds of baked beans. In addition there will be a limited supply of tomatoes, jam, coffee, milk and sugar. Garrison rations to last ten days will be carried along for the camp to be set up at the frontier.

The Second regiment is the first division to be shipped west because it was the first to be installed in Camp Harris, the first to undergo medical examinations and to be mustered in, as well as the first to receive equipment. The other units will follow in rapid succession, some a day apart, others less, according to the present program of departure. The Fifth regiment and

Goodbye Cigarettes! Even the "Makin's" Doomed by This Bill

Grady County Representative Would Make It Misdemeanor for Minor to Use "Pill."

Intended as a knock-out blow to "the makin's" is an anti-cigarette bill introduced in the house yesterday by Representative W. D. Barber, of Grady county.

Under it, as a law, rigidly enforced, the youth of Georgia would be forced to forego entirely the solace and soothing effects of "the pill," either the "tailor-mades" or those of the "roll your own" variety. In the first place, dealers would not be allowed to sell or give away, or to keep for sale or distribution, to persons under 21 years of age any cigaratte or cigarette papers, and in the second place, it would be unlawful for any minor to have or keep on his person or in his possession any cigarette or "the makin's" thereof.

He, like the firm or individual from whom such cigarettes or cigarette papers were obtained, would be guilty of a misdemeanor.

AMERICANS IN BATTLE WITH HAITIEN REBELS

One Marine Is Killed and Three Others Are Wounded.

Washington, July 3.—Two encounters near Santiago, Santo Domingo, July 1, between American marines and revolutionist bands in which one marine, Private Komo Mills, of the 31st company, was killed and three wounded, were reported to the navy department today by Rear Admiral Caperton.

Private Mills was killed in a fight between marines commanded by Colonel Pendleton and 100 revolutionists at a village named Oldeaminoreal, while the Americans were advancing upon Santiago from Monte Christi.

A marine detachment advancing from another point clashed with a group of revolutionists 25 miles from Santiago. Lieutenant D. B. Roben and Trumpeter Julius Goldsmith were slightly wounded and First Sergeant Fernando Barrior was seriously wounded in the leg. At Monte Christi last week a marine was killed and several wounded.

SUFFRAGIST THREATENS PRESIDENT WILSON

Washington, July 3.—Mrs. Frank L. Moran, a suffragist, visited President Wilson unexpectedly today and warned him that if he did not urge the passage by congress of an equal suffrage amendment, every effort would be made to induce the 4,000,000 women voters in the United States to oppose him in the coming campaign.

Mrs. Moran entered the white house with a delegation of the Woman's National Democratic league, calling to pledge the president the support of their organization. Mrs. Moran interrupted to say she came as an envoy of the suffragists, and delivered her warning. At the president's invitation she remained to discuss the subject further when the others left.

MONTHS OF SERVICE AWAIT GUARDSMEN ON MEXICAN BORDER

This Is Indicated by Order Creating New Military Department to Aid in Looking After the 1,800-Mile Front.

Washington, July 3.—While the diplomatic aspects of the Mexican difficulty showed no change tonight, war department measures for a new distribution of the border patrol clearly indicated that months of active service along the frontier await the thousands of national guardsmen gathering in the south. Only the appointment of a general officer to supreme command is lacking now to complete adequate administrative machinery not only for border operations but for a campaign of any desired proportions in Mexico.

Under the new plan the 1,800-mile frontier will be divided so that the southern and western military departments will take care of the eastern and western extremities of the line, respectively. Major General Funston, relieved from responsibility for the entire border at his own recommendation, will continue in command of the southern department, while Major General J. Franklin Bell, commanding the western department, will transfer his headquarters from San Francisco to Douglas, Arizona, to be in direct touch with his share of the border work.

The mid-section of the border line, embracing all territory between El Paso anu a point near Douglas and reaching northward to the Colorado state line, will be known hereafter as the department of New Mexico. Under its jurisdiction will fall the expedition into Mexico, based at Columbus, N. M., and Brigadier General Pershing, commanding the expeditionary force, has been offered the post of department commander.

Message Sent to Pershing.

A message went to General Pershing today asking if he desired to assume the duties of department chief in addition to those which now fall to him as commander in the field. The expedition is believed to have about completed the movement begun ten days or more ago when General Pershing, for strategic reasons, ordered the lines drawn in closer to the border. The war department has no definite information as to the exact whereabouts of the various camps, but it is thought that the most advanced patrols now are within 100 miles of the border.

No reply had been received from General Pershing at a late hour tonight. It is possible that he will see difficulties in the way of combining command of the new department and of the expeditionary force under one head. In that case there are indications that he would be expected to relinquish direct command of the expedition and establish his headquarters at some point on the border where he could give personal attention to the needs and also supervise the disposition and training of the thousands of national guardsmen soon to be added to the portion of the line within the new department. The war department has suggested El Paso for department headquarters, but left the final choice to General Pershing. With the line of communications greatly shortened the

GERMANS FORCED FROM MORE TOWNS; FRENCH PUSHING NEAR TO PERONNE

Peronne Is One of the Most Important Strategic Points Held by Germans on the Somme Front—The French Have Torn Holes in German Second Line.

OVER 12,000 PRISONERS HAVE BEEN CAPTURED AND NUMEROUS GUNS

British, Operating Over a Longer Front, Are Moving More Slowly But They Have Captured La Boiselle and Made Substantial Progress at Other Points—The French-African Corps Rushes a Strong German Position and Puts the Defenders to the Bayonet.

General Foch's French troops, cooperating with the British in the great offensive in the Somme river region, have made notable gains in the direction of Peronne, one of the most important strategical points along that front. Successively they have captured Herbecourt, Feuilleres and Flaucourt and further to the south French infantry stormed and occupied Assevillers. They followed this success by carrying the second line of German entrenchments as far as the outskirts of Estrees. Then came the capture of Buscourt and Flaucourt.

Something more than three miles was thus gained, which, added to previous gains, gives the French troops a clear advance of about six miles at the farthest point, to within three miles of Peronne.

BRITISH MOVE MORE SLOWLY.

Meanwhile, the British, moving more slowly, but over a longer front, have captured La Boisselle, where the fighting for the last two days has been of the fiercest character. The British also report "substantial progress in some places," and the repulse of many counter attacks by the Germans. British troops, however, have been forced back from some of the positions which they had taken early Monday morning, and it is evident that the German artillery fire has become much heavier than during the earlier stages of the battle.

The prisoners taken by the British so far number 4,300, while the French have captured 8,000 or more. The war material taken by the French includes seven batteries, three of large caliber, many machine guns and trench guns.

C. F. von HERRMANN,
Meteorologist, Weather Bureau.

Other batteries in casements also fell into the hands of the French.

Beyond admitting the withdrawal of a division from their first line trenches on the Somme, the German official statement makes meager reference to the battle now in progress.

The Verdun operations apparently are slackening, although at certain points a heavy bombardment is being carried out, but the infantry are resting.

Aerial activity is increasing in connection with the battle of the Somme, hundreds of machines being engaged in reconnoitering, directing the guns and fighting. In the three days' engagements the British have lost 15 machines.

HEAVY FIGHTING ON RUSS FRONT.

The Russian war office reports the capture of 2,300 prisoners in the various sectors of the eastern front. There is heavy fighting at many points on the Russian front, and the Austrians have opened a powerful offensive south of Linewka, and west of Lutsk they inaugurated other aggressive actions, but, according to Petrograd, were repulsed.

The Italian offensive continues without cessation, both artillery and infantry being employed in strong force against the Austrians.

BRITISH ATTACK AT ALL POINTS.

London, July 3.—The Franco-British offensive in France made continued progress today. Heavy fighting is proceeding all along the line, the war statements say, especially south of the Ancre river, where the British maintain of all of their positions. They have captured La Boisselle, the garrison of which surrendered, and are fighting successfully around Ovillers and north of Fricourt.

The French have captured Herbecourt, Assevillers, Buscourt and Flaucourt and have made other substantial gains, taking additional prisoners and heavy guns. They are making great progress in the direction of the important German junction of Peronne, a little over three miles from Herbecourt.

The British public learned tonight that the famous French General Foch, who has won a great reputation during the war, is directing the operations south of the Somme river. This has given increased confidence in the result of the allied offensive.

The non-committal character of the German official statement issued today is considered in London as a virtual confirmation of the success of the Anglo-French operations. The Germans admit that the division of their forces abutting both banks of the Somme, partly withdrawn Saturday, now has been brought back to the second line.

Nothing has been announced from either side as to the casualties suffered. According to the German communication the Anglo-French losses were "extraordinarily heavy." According to unofficial British reports, however, the British casualties were less than had been expected.

All reports emphasize the tremendous nature of the British bombardment. The gunners worked almost incessantly, and when there was a slight recess in the firing they slept easily amid the thunders of the battle.

Great importance is attached to a newly invented mortar, which played havoc in the German trenches. Aircraft are taking an important role in the operations.

Thus far the new offensive appears to have had little influence on the battle around Verdun. The Germans are still showing undiminished vigor in the Meuse region, and the French are as steadily resisting.

FRENCH FORCES NEAR PERONNE.

Paris, July 3.—The third day of the battle of the Somme shows that the Franco-British lines have been further advanced with the French right sweeping to the eastward south of the Somme, a group of strategic villages, a large number of German prisoners and heavy guns have been taken.

The advanced French lines now are only three miles from the important railway junction of Peronne, the defense of which has been greatly weakened by the capture by the French on Sunday of Mereaucourt woods, south of the Somme and between Feuilleres and Frise. This was the strongest fortified position of the German second line of defense on the entire front of the attack, but the French division, which took Frise, continued to advance with such impetus that the Germans were unable to resist, even under the protection of this formidable work.

One of the fiercest struggles was for the stone quarry, also strongly fortified, three-quarters of a mile east of Curlu. Here the Germans tried to stem the tide by a desperate counter attack, but the French-African colonials, one of the most celebrated corps of the French army, rushed the position with such energy that the Germans broke before the bayonet.

The French success at Frise also was brilliant, as it straightened their lines south of the elbow of the Somme, thus avoiding exposure to cross-fire. The French announcement today of the capture of the village of Herbecourt and the outskirts of Estree and Assevillers carried the advance about six miles beyond the point of departure Saturday.

The impetuosity of the French advance is shown in the taking of these villages, which were strongly fotified with the barbed wire entanglements across the streets. The stone houses were transformed into batteries of machine guns and the entire villages were enveloped in a dense network of barbed wire entanglements. Military observers say that these villages had a resisting power comparable with that of Douaumont.

Summing up the French advance south of the Somme, two main features are disclosed: First, the occupation for a length of eight kilometres of first line German trenches from the Somme to the village of Fay, and including five villages; second, a double line of German trenches extending from Haracourt woods to Assevillers.

The struggle continues with intensity. Observers declare that the first three days' successes, while great, are only initial episodes in the increasing pressure of a vast offensive.

FRENCH CONQUER MORE VILLAGES.

Paris, July 3.—The French, advancing to the east of the Mereaucourt wood, have captured the Chapitre wood and the village of Feuilleres. Further to the south Assevillers has been taken by an infantry assault, according to an official statement issued by the war office tonight.

South of Assevillers the French have taken the second line of German entrenchments as far as the outskirts of Estrees and have advanced beyond the second German line, where they have captured the village of Buscourt and Flaucourt. The total advance at this section was five kilometres.

The text of the French statement follows:

"North of the Somme the situation remains unchanged and no infantry action has occurred during the day.

"South of the Somme our troops, pursuing their success east of the Mereaucourt woods, took possession this morning of the Chapitre wood and the village of Feuilleres. Further to the south, Assevilieres, the center of a powerful defensive German organization, has been attacked and carried by our infantry after a brilliant assault.

"South of Assevilleres we have conquered the second German line as far as the outskirts of Estrees. In the course of the afternoon we advanced beyond the German second line and took possession of Buscourt (east of Feuilleres) and Flaucourt. At this point the ground conquered by us reaches a depth of five kilometers. Heavy reinforcements which were observed in the region of Belloy-en-Santerre and others east of Flaucourt were caught under the fire of our artillery and dispersed.

"Among the material which has fallen into our hands up to the present are seven batteries, of which three are of large caliber, a quantity of mitrailleuses and trench cannon. Other batteries sheltered in casements and several in Herbecourt have not yet been counted. The number of unwounded prisoners taken by the French troops passes, by actual count, 8,000.

"On the two banks of the Meuse there has been no infantry action. The artillery activity on the left bank of the river has been moderate. On the right bank a violent bombardment took place in the region of Poivre hill and in the sector of Thiaumont and Damloup, but there was no further attack by the enemy at this point."

Belgian communication: "Violent and destructive artillery actions have been carried on with success on the German positions at Dael Grachten and east of Steenstraete. A violent struggle with bombs took place in the southern sector of the Belgian line.

"North of the River Somme the enemy last night made no attack upon the positions conquered by us, and which we are now organizing.

"South of the River Somme the fight has been continued with complete success for our arms. Yesterday evening and last night we entirely occupied, along a front of more than five kilometers (three miles) the two lines of trenches of the second German position, from the Mereaucourt wood, which is in our possession, as far as the edge of Assevillers.

"Between these two points we took possession, as a result of a brilliant engagement, of the village of Herbecourt, which had been defensively organized by the enemy.

"Further to the south we have made progress in the direction of Assevillers, the northern and western boundaries of which are in our hands.

"To the north of the village of Estrees, and between Estrees and Assevillers, our troops have made perceptible progress.

"More prisoners and more pieces of heavy artillery, the counting of which has not yet been completed, were captured by us during these recent actions. According to information at hand, it has been established that more than 39 German battalions participated in the attack along the French front on July 1. According to the statements of prisoners, 31 of the battalion suffered very heavy losses and are at present completely disorganized. Most of the prisoners taken by us July 1 and July 2 are very young. As a result of the questioning of these men in our hands it has been learned that the preparatory fire of our artillery was very efficacious, not only in annihilating defensive organizations, but in rendering impossible all lateral communication behind the lines and in preventing the bringing up of provisions. At the same time our artillery fire made it impossible for the enemy to transmit orders to the troops engaged in the operations.

"During the preparatory offensive fire of our artillery French aviators set fire to thirteen captive German balloons. Two others were set on fire July 1. During the attack our aeroplane scouts were masters of the front. During this time only nine aeroplanes of the enemy showed themselves and not one crossed our lines. Of these nine machines, one was destroyed.

"South of the River Avre, in the region of Dancourt, and in the vicinity of the Wood Des Loges, French reconnoitering parties penetrated the German trenches and cleaned them out with hand grenades. In the region of Lassigny a surprise attack against a trench of the enemy was successful at Verlot wood, near Canny-Sur-Matz. Another French patrol made some prisoners in the region of Moulin-Sous-Toutvent. In the Champagne district one of our patrols took some prisoners not far from Prunay, and brought back a rapid fire gun.

"On the left bank of the River Meuse the night passed in relative quiet with the exception of the bombardment of our positions to the west of Hill 304. On the right bank of the river this morning at about 3:30 o'clock, after a violent bombardment, the Germans delivered a strong attack upon the Damloup work. They took possession of it, but our counter attack, delivered shortly after, resulted in driving them completely out and recapturing the work, which is now in our possession."

SUBSTANTIAL GAINS FOR THE BRITISH.

London, July 3.—The surrender of the remnant of the German garrison in La Boisselle was officially announced this afternoon.

Progress on other parts of the battlefield also is recorded in the statement, which follows:

"Heavy fighting continues, but it is proceeding satisfactorily for us, especially in the vicinity of La Boisselle, where the remnants of the garrison have now surrendered.

"On other parts of the battlefield some further progress has been made and some additional hostile defenses have been captured."

An earlier official statement timed at 2:40 p. m. showed that the fighting was being carried on with great intensity and varying success. This communication follows:

"The battle south of the Ancre continues to be hotly contested. All positions gained by us yesterday have been maintained.

"The fighting about La Boiselle and Ovillers was particularly severe. Yesterday evening we penetrated the village of La Boiselle, in which fighting is still going on. About Ovillers the fighting met with varying success. One attack early this morning secured a portion of the hostile defenses.

"Four hundred more prisoners passed through our collecting stations.

"A very large amount of work was done by our aircraft yesterday. In the early part of the day several attempts at offensive action on our side of the line were made by hostile aircraft in large parties. All were driven back and subsequently the enemy's aircraft was held far behind the German lines. As a result, our artillery machines were able to work without interruption from hostile aircraft.

"During the day a very large number of aerial combats took place over the enemy's lines. Six hostile machines are known to have been brought down and five others were driven down severely damaged. Seven of our machines are missing."

"Substantial progress at some points" is reported in the latest official communication issued from British general headquarters in France. The Germans succeeded in driving some of the British troops from positions which they had captured in the morning, but elsewhere the German attacks were repulsed.

Describing the fluctuations in the battle around La Boisselle and south of Thiepval, the statement declares that the advantage on the whole remained with the British.

The text reads:

"The fight fluctuated this afternoon about La Boisselle and south of Thiepval, the advantage on the whole remaining with us.

"South of Thiepval hostile counter attacks drove some of our troops from a portion of the positions which they had captured early this morning (Monday). Elsewhere many hostile attacks were repulsed with heavy loss.

"In some places we have continued to make substantial progress.

"The amount of captured armament and warlike stores is very considerable, but no accurate details are yet available. The number of prisoners now reaches over 4,300.

"On the rest of the front, except for heavy hostile artillery fire at certain places no incident of importance occurred.

"Yesterday there was a vast increase in the number of hostile aeroplanes on the southern sectors of our front, but, despite this, our airmen carried out in a most gallant manner all the duties assigned to them.

"Today one hostile kite balloon, destroyed by us, fell in flames. Since the commencement of the battle we have lost a total of fifteen machines along the whole British front."

BERLIN ADMITS GERMAN LOSS.

Berlin, July 3.—(Via London.)—The war office report of today says that continuation of the French and British drive on both sides of the Somme has not gained any advantage for the allies, north of the river, but south of the Somme the Germans withdrew a division to the second line position.

The statement says the allies suffered extraordinary heavy losses in the fighting north of the river. The communication follows:

"The continuation of the British and French attacks on both sides of the Somme did not win any advantage, generally speaking, north of the river. The enemy suffered extraordinarily heavy losses in this region.

"South of the river we withdrew into the second line positions during the night, the division which we recalled yesterday from the first line to the intermediate defensive positions.

"There was the same degree of activity on the fronts which have not been attacked.

"West of the Meuse (Verdun front) attempts of the French to retake captured trench sections of Hill 304, led to minor infantry engagements. East of the Meuse the enemy again exhausted himself in fruitless attacks on the village of Thiaumont and on Froide Berre ridge. In one of these attacks the enemy temporarily penetrated our foremost trench, about 600 meters southwest of the village, but was driven out again immediately.

"The hill battery of Damloup, southeast of Vaux fort, has been in our possession since Sunday night. We took 100 prisoners and several machine guns.

"French detachments advancing against German positions in the wood of Le Pretre, to the northwest of Pont-a-Mousson, were repulsed easily.

"Numerous aerial engagements were fought yesterday and six enemy aviators were brought down. Four fell within our lines. Lieutenant Mulser put out of commission his seventh opponent and Lieutenant Parschau his sixth. An enemy biplane was brought down over Donai and another, on Saturday, east of Pervyse by our anti-aircraft guns. Two French captive ballons were brought to earth in the neighborhood of Verdun by our aviators."

AMUSEMENTS

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

There have been many women at the Forsyth this season, who were good to look at. Some of them were attractive by virtue of pretty face, or taste in costume. Others caught the fancy of the people in front through physical charms. None, however, have made a greater appeal to the audience than Melissa Ten Eyck, who with Max Welly is appearing in a dance creation this week.

To begin with, Miss Ten Eyck has been bountifully blessed with what is often described as physical pulchritude. In addition she looks attractive enough in face to win her way. However, the lights are so dim during the act that it is form more than face that makes her part of the program an unqualified success.

The curtain lifts on a pretty scene. In the far rear of the stage, the young woman is shown in graceful pose. A moment and she drops off the robes and stands forth, clad in white tights. In dances that follow she appears in other costumes, but they are all of the airiest material. The act is really a succession of poses, all very well done.

There are a number of other interesting acts on the bill, but the program as a whole is only a fair entertainment. It offers a little of almost every kind of vaudeville.

For instance, there is "Oklahoma Bob" Albright, the cowboy singer, who opens with a particularly well chosen selection, and later shows how other songs are sung by favorites of the stage. He gives an idea of the work of Eddie Leonard and of Chauncey Olcott, and before he gets through sings "Moonshine Sally." He has a pleasing stage presence, and "got over" the footlights.

Then, just to show that vaudeville offers the opera as well as popular music, the members of the cast of "The New Producer" please in famous selections made memorable here by appearances of the Metropolitan Opera company. Perhaps their best number is the sextet from "Lucia." The actors in this sketch would do well, however, either to change their talking lines or eliminate them. Particularly commendable is the work of Jake Mathiessen's orchestra. With only seven men in the pit the Forsyth musicians scored a triumph with the crowd.

William Wilson, called in press notices "the celebrated comedian," with two others, offers "The Politician." The act has a surprise at the finish, but it is as long a time to that finish as Tipperary is far away. The audience is always hoping the surprise will hurry up.

Cushman and Wilson, in a dancing act, are fair. Heras and Preston satisfied in the opening spot. Cook and Lorenze, the old favorites, are "with us" again. There have been few changes in their act, and much of their material is very, very old, but the crowd gave them the "glad hand."

ROBERT MORAN.

Burke and Sweet.

(At the Piedmont.)

"Isn't it splendid to see Billie Burke and Blanche Sweet at the same house at the same time?" exclaimed a feminine picture fan as she left the Piedmont theater Monday night. She had just finished enjoying the work of two of America's most accomplished stars in two excellent attractions. "The Dupe" is the title of the picture in which Miss Sweet is appearing, while Billie Burke is winning smiles in "The Harvest of Sin," the most interesting chapter that has yet been shown of "Gloria's Romance." Both of these pictures will be presented at the Piedmont Tuesday and Wednesday. Each release is elaborately produced and is shown with a strong cast of players.

Preparedness Parade.

(At the Strand.)

An example of enterprise is that of B. Lee Smith, manager of the Strand theater, in securing for exhibition at the Strand theater today, beginning at 7 o'clock, the pictures taken today of the big "Preparedness" parade in Atlanta. If you are on the streets or taking part in the parade you surely will want to see your own picture. Those who are unable to go this evening will have an opportunity all day Wednesday to see it, as the picture will be run two days. This is only an added attraction to the regular picture for the day, which will be "The Man From Bitter Roots," with William Farnum, the star. It is a story of a western mining town and carries a romance which concerns the love affairs of three men.

"According to the Code."

(At the Criterion.)

Exceptionally clever work in connecting the present day with the civil war, is done in the photoplay drama "According to the Code," the five-act Essanay feature, with Lewis S. Stone in the stellar role. The action of the play starts with the present time and constantly recurs to the early sixties to show what led up to later scenes. "According to the Code" is a powerful drama of early southern chivalry of love of home, honor and of intrigue. It will be presented at the Criterion on today only.

"Stonewall Jackson's Way."

(At the Georgian.)

A special Independence day program has been arranged at the Georgian theater for today. Lubin's realistic war drama, "Stonewall Jackson's Way," will be shown, accompanied by a Charlie Chaplin comedy, "A Night in the Show." "Stonewall Jackson's Way" takes one back to the days of '61, when federals and confederates were engaged in mortal conflict. Battles are shown as well as pillage of homes and property. Through it all runs a love story of intense interest. "A Night in the Show" is another one of the unbeatable Chaplin comedies, which go so well with Atlanta photoplay goers. Chaplin, of course, is always funny, but in this comedy seems to out-do himself in crazy antics.

RUSSIANS BATTER AT TEUTON LINES

Capture of Over 2,300 Prisoners Reported by Petrograd — Teutons Attack at Some Points, But Are Repulsed.

Petrograd, July 3.—(Via London.)—The Russians are battering persistently at the solid wall of the German defenses west and north of Lutsk, beyond the Shara river. The Germans have taken the offensive at various points and fierce battles are reported daily, with little change in the alignment.

The Germans are pouring reinforcements to this front from Kovel, Vladimir-Volynski and Shokal, apparently making a desperate attempt to push the Russians back upon Lutsk. Their only success has been to bend the Russian flank positions at the cost of a fearful toll in dead, into an arc centering on the village of Torchin, 15 miles northwest of Lutsk.

Along the whole line northward to Riga the Germans are attacking on widely separated and narrow fronts, but apparently without co-ordination. The only success admitted by military critics is in the region northwest of Nowogrodek, where the Germans threw a force across the Niemen. Little importance is attached to this, due to the swampy nature of the terrain, which, it is expected, makes the development of an offensive impossible.

General Brussiloff's advance in the Kolomea region has distinctly slowed up and is less spectacular than during the last fortnight, but continues to record successes.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE MORE PRISONERS.

Petrograd, July 3.—(Via London.)—The capture of more than 2,300 prisoners and a number of guns on various sectors of the eastern front is reported in an official statement issued by the Russian war office tonight. The text of the statement follows:

"Fierce battles continue between the Styr and the Stokhod and to the south of these rivers. On the Koptche-Ghelenovka-Zobary front, after gusts of gun fire, the Germans left their trenches and attempted an assault upon our lines. They were repulsed by our fire.

"Under the cover of bombardment of extreme violence, the enemy opened an offensive south of Linewka, but was checked by us. In this fighting, the valiant Colonels Pampushko and Dashkevitgorbatsky were wounded. We took prisoners sixteen officers and 800 soldiers and captured nine machine guns.

"In the region of Dubilno and Zatursee (west of Lutsk), the Austrians took the offensive in massed formation, but were repulsed with heavy losses. We took prisoners here more than 700 men and captured three machine guns.

"East of the village of Ougrinov, midway between Lutsk and Gorochow, fresh enemy forces held up our attack and pressed us closely. At this stage of the battle the enemy, who was making progress, was attacked on the flank by our cavalry under Colonel Kortchenoff. By an impetuous onslaught, the enemy was overthrown and the majority sabred. This cavalry attack enabled our infantry to resume the offensive and we took here 800 prisoners.

"In the region of Issakoff, on the right bank of the Dniester, southeast of Nijniff, the enemy took the offensive in superior numbers. We launched a counter offensive and in the course of the fierce fight which followed the gallant Cossack commander, Colonel Popoff, was wounded.

"According to supplementary reports of the fighting near Pechenizyn, west of Kolomea, General Letchitzky's troops have captured seven cannon and four caissons.

"On our right wing, in the region of Riga, our land and sea artillery bombarded the enemy's lines. An enemy aeroplane dropped 20 bombs in an effort to damage our ships, but without result. It disappeared when attacked by one of our seaplanes. On General Evert's front on Saturday night the Germans carried out a gas attack in the sector south of Smorgon and captured part of our trenches, but were subsequently dislodged.

"Caucasus front: West of Platana the Turks attacked at dawn on Saturday positions which we had captured from them the day previously, but were repulsed by our fire and counter attack and left numerous dead on the field.

"A Turkish attempt to attack our troops in the region of Djivizlyk was repulsed by the concentrated fire of our batteries. In the direction of Gumish Khaneh the Turks delivered during the day and night a series of attacks on our positions, all of which were repulsed.

"In the region of the upper Choruk we captured on a wide front several lines of Turkish organized positions, taking guns, machine guns, bombthrowers and many prisoners. We repulsed in this direction all Turkish counter attacks, inflicting severe losses on the enemy."

RUSSIANS LAUNCH FIERCE ATTACKS.

Berlin, July 3. —(Via London.)—The Russians have launched an attack against the army of Prince Leopold on the central section of the eastern front. The war ornce report of today says the Russians succeeded in advancing at one point, but otherwise were forced to retreat, with heavy losses.

The Russians also attacked at many points along the northern part of the front, against Field Marshal von Hindenburg's troops, but gained no advantage. The official account of operations in the east follows:

"Russian torpedo boats and the ship of the line Slava bombarded the Courland coast east of Raggasem without result. They were attacked effectively by our coastal batteries and by aeroplane squadrons, and the Slava was struck.

"At many points along the front of Field Marshal von Hindenburg the enemy increased his fire and repeatedly undertook advances. These led to fighting in our lines near Niki, north of Smorgon. The enemy was ejected immediately, with heavy losses. We captured 243 Russians.

"On the front of Prince Leopold the Russians attacked northeast and east of Gorodische, and on both sides of the Baranovichi railway, after artillery preparation for four hours. A counter attack is now proceeding against detachments which advanced northeast of Gorodische. Otherwise the enemy was forced to retreat, leaving behind many killed or wounded.

"On the front of General von Linsingen strong Russian counter attacks were delivered west and southwest of Lutsk, but failed to stop our advance. Large cavalry attacks broke down miserably. The number of prisoners was increased by about 1,800.

"On the front of General Count von Bothmer we engaged in a battle southeast of Flumacs, which was favorable to us.

RUSSIANS RETREAT, TURKS REPORT.

Constantinople, July 3.—(Via London.)—Turkish troops in the Tchoruk region of Turkish Armenia have forced the Russians further back toward the Black sea coast and have occupied strong positions along a seven-mile front, the war office announced today. The official statement says:

"In southern Persia our troops are progressing eastward, driving off Russian rear guards.

"In the Caucasus our troops north of the Tcoruk pressed back the enemy eight kilometers to the north in the direction of the coast and again occupied dominating positions of the enemy on a length of 12 kilometers.

"Our naval forces last week gained several successes in the Black sea."

MORE PROGRESS MADE BY ITALIAN FORCES

King Victor's Troops Continue to Harry the Austrians.

Rome, July 3.—(Via London.)—Intense artillery activity in the Trentino and infantry operations which, in some sectors, resulted in Italian advances, are reported in today's war office statement as follows:

"Yesterday in the region of the Adige valley the enemy carried out a heavy bombardment of our positions from Serravale to Monte Pasubio. Some shells fell on Ala. Our artillery replied effectively.

"Infantry fighting on the northern slopes of Monte Pasubio continued with great violence.

"In the Posina valley we occupied a spur northwest of Monte Pruche and Monte Molino in the Zara valley and Monte Scatolari in the Rio Frezzo.

"Operations against Corno del Coston, Monte Helugio and Monte Cimone, the enemy's main points of resistance, developed.

"On the Asiago plateau we pushed forward beyond the northern edge of the Assa valley. On the remainder of this sector there was a lull in the fighting preparatory to further attacks on difficult ground.

"In the Brenta valley small encounters on the slopes of Monte Civaron resulted in considerable loss for the enemy. We took prisoners.

"In the Upper But and Frella valleys the artillery was very active. In the Carso the enemy attacked our new positions east of Selz, but was driven back after brisk hand-to-hand fighting.

"Our aircraft made raids on the upper Assa valley and returned safely."

BREAD—the Real Health Food

When a woman is cooking, it is but little additional trouble for her to bake her own bread. Home-made bread is the purest, most wholesome and inexpensive of foods.

Bread is the ideal food—very easy to digest, wholesome and nutritious. And it is the most economical of foods. It yields nearly twice as much nourishment as rice or potatoes and several times as much as an equal value of cheese, fish or beef.

Everybody should eat plenty of good bread.

Bulletin No. 6

Suppose this was Your Business!

If the Government had asked you to invest your money in a plant to supply Government needs; and after the plant was built, and had become useful for no other purpose, the Government built a plant of its own, making your plant useless and your investment valueless—would that seem fair?

That is precisely what Congress is planning for the Government to do with reference to our investment of $7,000,000 in an armor plant.

Reporting to Congress, Hon. H. A. Herbert, then Secretary of the Navy, said December 31, 1896:

"The two armor contractors, the Bethlehem Iron Company and the Carnegie Steel Company, both entered upon the business at the request of the Navy Department."

Is it wise—is it fair—for the Government to destroy a private industry brought into existence to serve the Government, unless for reasons of compelling force? To show that no such reasons exist, we make this offer to the United States Government:

The Bethlehem Steel Company will manufacture armor plate for the Government of the United States at actual cost of operation plus such charges for overhead expenses, interest, and depreciation as the Federal Trade Commission may fix. We will do this for such period as the Government may designate.

Isn't that fair? The question is now before the United States Senate.

FOLDS HAD TO LAY OFF FROM HIS WORK OVER HALF OF TIME

Says It Has Almost Been a Case of Up One Day and Down the Next for Ten Years—Now Able to Work Every Day.

"People who knew what a dreadful state of health I was in before I took Tanlac seem amazed now when they see me looking so well, and I'm a regular talking machine for that great medicine," said Asa Folds, employed for nine years as machinist by the Whittier Mills, Chattahoochee, Ga., in his statement recently.

"Ten years ago," continued Mr. Folds, "my stomach became badly deranged and a little later my kidneys got in bad shape, and to cap it all I was seized by the rheumatism and got to be a constant sufferer. My appetite was so poor I couldn't eat much of anything, and I must have been a regular dyspeptic, for the little I ate wouldn't agree with me, and I was constantly belching up hot, bitter, half-digested food. I had severe headaches and felt miserable all the time. I had awful pains about my liver and in my back around my kidneys, and I would have djzzy spells and be so weak I would have to sit down to keep from falling. The rheumatic pains from my hips to my heels were hard to bear at times, and I was so nervous and full of misery I couldn't get any sound sleep at all. Finally I got so crippled up with the rheumatism and was so weak and run-down I couldn't work regular and was just on a day and off a day, and then I got to losing more time than I made. In spite of all the treatment and medicine my condition kept getting worse and if it hadn't been for Tanlac I believe I would have soon been past going at all.

"A good friend of mine advised me to give Tanlac a trial and it certainly was fortunate for me when I began taking it. The man who made this medicine surely knew what it takes to drive rheumatism out of the system and relieve kidney trouble and indigestion. I felt better almost right from the start and since taking two bottles I haven't an ache of any kind about me. My kidney trouble is gone and all the misery in my back about my liver has disappeared and I have no more dizzy spells. My appetite is enormous now, and when meal time comes I'm anxious to get to the table. I can do justice to three hearty meals a day and I eat just anything I want and nothing I eat gives me any trouble. I'm not nervous in the least now and I sleep like a log every night. I feel rested and fine when I get up in the mornings and am full of vim and energy the whole day through. Tanlac has made a well man out of me and I'm now able to put in full time every day at my work. You may put me down as one who will always have a good word for Tanlac."

HETTY GREEN GOES OVER GREAT DIVIDE

World's Most Remarkable Mistress of Finance Succumbs to Paralysis --- Fortune Near $100,000,000.

New York, July 3.—Mrs. Hetty Green, said to be the wealthiest woman in the world, died at her home here today at 8:05 o'clock.

She had suffered three strokes of paralysis during the past two months, and for several weeks had been practically helpless. She was 80 years old. Her death occurred at the home of her son, Colonel Edward R. H. Green, at No. 5 West Ninetieth street, adjoining the plain brick, four-story house at No. 7, on the corner of Central Park, west, where Mrs. Green had lived lately in seclusion, except for her son and several Japanese servants and trained nurses. For several weeks past Mrs. Green had been unable to walk and had spent practically all of her time in a wheel chair.

Her son, Colonel Green, and her daughter, Mrs. Matthews Astor Wilks, who were the only children, had been with her much of the time and it was recently reported that Mrs. Green had turned over all of her financial affairs to her son's charge.

Both Mrs. Wilks and Colonel Green were at their mother's bedside when she died. Notwithstanding that she had suffered paralytic strokes, the end was rather sudden, for yesterday Mrs. Green seemed in better spiris than for some time. Last night, however, a grave relapse occurred and during the night Mrs. Green became unconscious at intervals. The end came during one of these periods.

Mrs. Green's body will be taken tomorrow to Bellows Falls, Vermont. Funeral services will be held there Wednesday. Mrs. Green's son and daughter will accompany the body.

Mistress of Finance.

Hetty Green was the world's most remarkable mistress of finance. The fortune she has left is close to $100,000,000. The richest woman in America, she lived almost as frugally as a shop-girl. Her home was wherever she chose for a time to hang her little black cape and bonnet, often in the hall bedroom of some cheap boarding house, or in some remote and modest flat around New York.

Her eccentric extremes of economy led to a popular misconception of her as a "selt-made woman." As a matter of fact she was born rich. In 1865 she inherited some $10,000,000, which accumulated upon itself until in fifty years it had multiplied nearly ten times. She also inherited family traditions which had been a pride for three centuries, and which she was anxious to perpetuate in her children.

She was born on November 21, 1835, at New Bedford, Mass. This old maritime city was founded by her ancestor, John Howland, a Puritan, who came over on the Mayflower and who named the place after Bedford, his family home in England. In succeeding generations the Howland family became famous in the whaling industry and shipping trade with China, and had an irreproachable social standing. Edward Mott Robinson, who had also amassed a fortune in a similar way in New Bedford, married Abby Howland, of whom Hetty Robinson, the future mistress of finance, was born. She was sent to a Quaker school on Cape Cod, and to a seminary in Boston, and got her first lessons in finance when her ageing father entrusted her with some of his books.

She was just 30 years old when her father died suddenly, leaving her his nine millions, one million outright and the income from the other eight, the principal to be held in trust for her children. It is forgotten that Hetty Green, then Robinson, was a belle in New York society. According to her own stories she "often danced the whole night through." Even then, however, she lived in a boarding house and was so saving that rather than pay carfare, she would pull a pair of heavy woolen stockings over her shoes and walk through the snow to parties.

Almost at the same time that her father died, her aunt, Sylvia Ann Howland, passed away, leaving several million dollars. It is said Hetty Robinson had been brought up from childhood to count this money as hers, and that the aunt expressed hope that Hetty would some day become, as she did, the richest woman in the country.

Litigation Over Will.

The division of the aunt's estate, however, was not as expected. Three years after the aunt's death Hetty Green appeared in the United States circuit court in Massachusetts with a will which she wanted substituted for the one already probated. This will was in Mrs. Green's own handwriting, and some of the most famous experts of the day declared under oath their belief that the two signatures it contained were not made by the aunt, but were traced by Hetty Green herself over an original signature of Sylvia Ann Howland.

The litigation is one of the most famous in court annals. After an expense of $172,000, the case was dismissed on a technicality. An appeal was made to the supreme court of the United States, but while this was pending a private settlement was reached.

From those days to the time of her death Hetty Green was involved in some law suit or other, asserting that lawyers were forever trying to rob her of her propesty. Her antipathy toward them was so violent that she said, "I would rather have my daughter burned at the stake than to go through what I have with lawyers."

She married in 1867. Her husband was Edward H. Green, who was United States consul general in Manila, where he made a fortune in the silk trade. It is said Green, at a public dinner, heard someone speak of Hetty Robinson as "the greatest American heiress," and straightaway announced his determination to marry her. Before the wedding day an agreement was signed to the effect that the wife's fortune should never be drawn on to meet the husband's debts or any of their joint expenses. He died in 1902, after having lost most of his money in Wall street.

Both Hetty Green and he did business there for many years, but on separate accounts. Old Wall street men have told innumerable stories about her closeness. One was how she negotiated once for a special engine to take her from Philadelphia to New York so that she might not miss a chance to make several thousand dollars before the close of the stock exchange. A price was named by the railroad company for an engine and one car. After haggling a few minutes, Mrs. Green made this final proposition:

"Take off the car and make it $5 less. I'll ride in the locomotive cab." This she did, and reached Wall street in time to make a successful turn.

Dressed in simple and sometimes shabby black, with a little bonnet that would stand a lot of wear, the woman of millions moved about in downtown New York, recognized only by a few who had been initiated into the secret of her identity. She never rode in a carriage, and was never seen at the theater or opera. Her abiding place was usually a mystery to the tax collector, whom she admittedly dodged.

Bryan on Hetty Green.

William Jennings Bryan when in congress arguing in favor of an income tax said:

"Hetty Green enjoys an income which can scarcely be less than $3,000,000 a year, yet she lives at a cheap boarding house and spends only a few hundred dollars. This woman, under your indirect system of taxation, does not pay as much toward the support of the federal government as a laboring man whose income of $500 is spent upon his family."

Her most pretentious home was at Bellows Falls, Vt., where she spent many summers, but even this place was notorious therefor never being in repair. In winter she hid herself in some of the least expensive neighborhoods around New York, guarding her identity by putting the name of her pet dog, "Dewey," on the doorplate. Her daughter, Sylvia, was her only companion. The latter she kept from society, but in 1909 consented to her marriage, at the age of thirty, to Matthew Astor Wilks, a wealthy New Yorker of 57 years. The lonely mother then removed herself for a time to a suite of rooms in one of the most fashionable Fifth avenue hotels, but this luxury was soon given up.

It was Hetty Green's ambition to make her son, Edward Howland Green, the richest man in the country. She put him through many severe tests to try out his business qualifications. A story is told that when he was a boy she sent him out to the street corner to sell the morning paper from which she had read the financial news. She finally sent him to Texas, where he eventually worked himself to the front as a railroad man and financier. Since 1892 he has been president of the Texas Midland railroad and a factor in many other interests. In late years he largely assumed the management of his mother's property.

Typical of some of the turnovers by which they made large sums of money, was the sale of hundreds of acres of land in Chicago which they had obtained years before under foreclosure proceedings for a few hundred thousand dollars and which sold for millions.

Hetty Green's investments were largely in mortgages, and whenever she invested in anything it was only after she had made the most minute personal examination of the properties. She never disclosed in detail the secrets of her success, but she admitted it was mainly in buying when things were cheap and never selling until they were high. If asked for advice as to what would be good to invest in, her epigrammatic answer was usually "the other world."

While never intensely religious, she was a frequent attendant at Quaker meetings, and only a few years ago she, like her daughter, was baptized in the Episcopal church.

She emphatically denied that her disposition was miserly. During the panic of 1907-08 she made loans which tided over many wealthy New Yorkers. Two years before the panic, it was said, she had gathered in a large portion of her money and was prepared when the storm broke to lend a helping hand, at a good rate of interest. It was sometimes intimated that upon her death the country might be surprised at the disposition she would make of her wealth.

LARGE HOUSE LAUDS BENEFIT PERFORMANCE

Before a large and appreciative audience, "A True Romance of Stone Mountain" was repeated last night at the Auditorium. The performance was in the nature of a benefit, the entire proceeds being given to the "comfort fund" of the Fifth regiment.

The story is a dainty little romance of life in Georgia during the civil war. The cast played their parts like professionals and the entire production was a finished product.

Miss Elvina Neal, who took the part of Polly Simpkins, was a dinty little heroine. Clyde Shropshire, who played opposite her as Arthur Weston, made a dashing hero. Mrs. Charles Sheldon, as Mrs. Simpkins, and Mrs. J. L. Barnes, as Mary Howard, played their roles exceptionally well. A specialty act, furnished by little Miss Ethel Fischer, the 5-year-old toe-dancer, was novel. The little lady was applauded and made to respond several times.

BIG ROLE PLAYED BY MACHINE GUNS

In Drive of the Allies—Both the British and the Germans Have the Guns in Amazing Numbers.

Press Headquarters on the French Line, July 2.—(Via London, July 3.)—Machine guns played an important part in the German defense against the British attack and also in the British repulse of counter attacks when organizing positions taken. Both German and British have them in amazing numbers.

During the bombardment before the infantry attacks the Germans remain in dugouts so deep that they can be crushed in only by a direct hit with a 15-inch shell. Instantly the bombardment ceases, they rush out and man any remaining machine guns, or even bring up machine guns from the dugouts. The British carry mobile machine guns forward and the moment a position is occupied they emplace them.

All reports from those engaged in the fighting agree that barbed wire entanglements, however strong, have been invariably well cut and there is universal praise for the new mortar, the invention of a government civil engineer in Egypt, which the British have manufactured in large numbers.

But frequently the deep German dugouts, instead of being rallying points, become traps, with the occupants either surrendering or being blown up by bombs thrown into the entrance when they refuse to surrender.

Gunners Know No Rest.

The gunners, after their week's bombardment, know no cessation in their toil. Where the British advance they must move their guns forward to new positions for the next stage of the attack. When they have a recess in the firing, they fall asleep amid the thunder of the neighboring batteries, unless they have to work on new dugouts.

The aviators' part has never been so daring, so thrilling as during this battle. One of them, in a small, fast single-man machine, though the usual altitude kept over the enemy lines these days is from ten to twelve thousand feet, descended as low as five hundred feet during the battle, and was able to identify the khaki of the British and the green of the Germans as they struggled for the possession of a trench. He sent a wireless message back to army headquarters of the exact situation, the promptness of such information being invaluable. He returned with forty bullet holes in his planes but himself uninjured.

The percentage of dead to wounded is smaller than usual in trench fighting. Many light wounds have been received from shrapnel and rifle and machine gun fire, but the good weather and excellent physical condition of the men mean quick recovery.

There are plenty of examples of English phlegmatic temperament. One gunner, lifted into the air by the concussion of a shell, said after he came down: "I wish they had provided cushions."

A corps commander, after all plans were complete for the attack at 7:30 o'clock in the morning, said before lying down to sleep: "Wake me at 7:45; the first reports will be in by then."

MUCH FIGHTING HAND-TO-HAND.

London, July 4.—Several special trains loaded with wounded from the battlefield in France arrived at the three principal London stations last evening. Great crowds assembled and cheered the men, most of whom had been wounded Saturday. Some of the men were still so dazed that they were unable to tell what day it was, but in a majority of the cases their condition was not very serious. It is remarkable how few men were suffering from shell or bullet wounds. Most of them were victims of the bayonet, testifying to the hand-to-hand nature of the fighting.

The soldiers related vivid stories of the battle. A Gordon Highlander declared that the famous regiment had added a glorious new chapter to its history at Mametz.

"The Kilties led the charge," he said. "They swept over the ground and carried the first line of battered trenches without a single man falling. In the outskirts of the village, however, the Germans had concealed a number of machine guns, and a hurricane of lead was poured into those in advance. But the Gordons never hesitated. They leaped into the trenches, clearing line after line at the bayonet point; then pushed into the village, although it was still being shelled by artillery. As soon as they gained a foothold, the elevation of the guns was altered and a curtain of fire poured onto the ground behind, where the enemy supports were massing.

"Every yard of the village streets was contested, but reinforcements pushed up, and by nightfall the Highlanders had secured possession."

LIQUOR IS FOUND IN RESIDENCE RAID AND COUPLE JAILED

Found at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Harmon, 53 Gilmore street, twenty gallons of blockade corn whisky were confiscated by local police officials yesterday.

Several days ago Detective Sergeant Vickery received information that a very successful "blind tiger" was being operated at the Harmon residence, and Monday, with acting Chief Bob Waggoner and Detectives Shaw, Maddox, Davis and Davis, he raided the house.

In one room a half-barrel of bottled beer was discovered; in another several glass jars partly filled with liquor, and in the last room searched, a big 20-gallon barrel, rigged up with a faucet for drawing purposes.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Harmon are being held at police barracks under $1,000 bonds, charged with violating section 1768 of the city code, which specifies the operation of a "dive" for the purpose of dispensing alcoholic drinks. It is known as the "dive ordinance."

HOUSE IS FIRED AND WIRES CUT, POLICE ASSERT

Police officers late last night were investigating a fire of unknown origin which badly damaged the residence of D. E. Wilson, 41 Eugenia street.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, with their three children, had gone to the residence of Mrs. Wilson's mother, Mrs. D. E. Christian, at 440 Central avenue, to spend the evening.

When they returned to the house, Mr. Wilson opened the front door and was almost suffocated by a cloud of smoke which burst forth. He ran to the telephone in the hall to call the fire department, but found that the telephone would not work. Investigation later revealed the fact that the wires had evidently been cut.

Mr. Wilson is an employee of the Western Union Telegraph company and rents the house from Mrs. Holbrook, whose husband is a member of the brokerage firm of Holbrook & Smith. It was stated that the building was covered with insurance.

VALUABLE BOOKS WILLED TO DERENNE'S ONLY SON

Priceless Historical Collection May Finally Go to University of Georgia.

Savannah, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—Bequeathing the famous collection of Georgia books and documents and the other valuable collections in the Wormsloe library to Wymberly W. Derenne, the will of the late Wymberly J. Derenne, who died in New York June 23, was probated in solemn form in Ordinary McAlpin's office this morning.

The noted collection of books and historical documents is left to Derenne, the son, with the proviso that at his death they go to his son. If he has no son, then the collection goes to the University of Georgia at Athens, to be called "The Derenne Collection of Georgia History."

The will is written in Mr. Derenne's own hand and covers nearly two pages of foolscap paper. It is thought that Mr. Derenne, who was an attorney, although he never practiced, composed the will himself. It is dated February 9, 1916.

The will disposes of the personal estate to his three children, Wymberly W. Derenne, Mrs. Elfrida Barrow, both of Savannah, and Mrs. Audrey Coerr, of New York city.

The value of Mr. Derenne's personal estate is not indicated by the will, but it is known to be large. Most of it is composed of stocks and bonds, which were left to the son. The value of the historical collection cannot be estimated—some of the articles therein contained are priceless, such as the original constitution of the confederate states. Among the many other interesting and valuable documents in the collection is said to be the original list of the settlers who sailed from England to Savannah with General James Oglethorpe in 1733.

The will provides that all of the family jewels and silver is to be divided equally between the two daughters, Mrs. Barrow and Mrs. Coerr. The will does not touch upon the vast Derenne estate left entailed to the late Wymberly J. Derenne by his father, George Wymberly Jones Derenne. This estate, said to be worth one million dollars or more, at the death of Mr. Derenne, by the terms of his father's will, goes to the three children—Mrs. Barrow, Mrs. Coerr and W. W. Derenne, who if they see fit can partition it into three parts. This estate includes the magnificent house and grounds at Wormsloe, near Isle of Hope. It also includes property in Philadelphia.

NEGRO BOYS USED TO ENTER HOMES, SAY CITY POLICE

Said to have employed a band of small negro boys for the purpose of breaking into and looting various vacant houses of all plumbing and fixtures, B. Zellen, 40 years of age, a resident of 256 Martin street, was arrested by Call Officers Darby and Williams early Monday night.

The arrest of Zellen, it is said, followed the apprehension and confession of three small negro boys, two of whom are said to have been caught by officers in the act of breaking into a vacant house at 269 Hill street. Two of the boys arrested are Jesse Coleman, aged 9 years, and James Cobb, aged 15 years. The third boy taken could not talk plainly, but in answer to the questions of the officers indicated his replies by nodding his head.

Zellen was released under a bond of $1,000. He stated to a reporter that he was not guilty of the charge made against him.

The jack pines planted in Nebraska's sand hills by the government forest service some ten years ago, are now more than fifteen feet in height.

Speaking of Preparedness

Our newspaper friends, while very considerate of our wishes, have been insistent that we make, as a matter of news, some statement of our future plans which we have been giving our most earnest and careful attention quite a long time.

We have consummated a long lease on Nos. 86, 88, 90, 92, 94, 96 Whitehall Street, 200 feet south of Hunter and 75 feet North of Mitchell, upon which we have plans to erect a store as well suited to our purpose for the present and future of Atlanta, as we can think out and afford.

Our great ambition and hope is that our City, our State and our Southland will recognize the effort as not altogether selfish, but brim full of the wish to be regarded Good Merchants, with all the good things comprehended therein.

CADOMENE TABLETS LIFT YOU OVER THE WALL OF NERVOUS DISCONTENT AND WORRY

When the structures of the system are in perfect health they work without attracting attention or causing any alarm. The moment that any part of the system has become inefficient in functioning, or cries out in pain, then you know you have been attacked by nerve and tissue weakness.

You become conscious of an unnatural condition, your heart beats wildly after exertion or excitement, you suffer with nervous headaches, the nerves in the spinal cord, on account of their overtaxed, weakened condition, cause pains in the back, drawing at the base of the brain, irritability of temper, uneven mood, sleeplessness, cold, clammy feeling, you lack will-power, energy and ambition.

Not only is the nervous system the seat of all intelligence, memory, reason or probably of the very soul itself, but every movement of the various structures of the body depends upon nerve action. Hence when the nerves suffer from debility or weakness, trouble is instantly felt in one or more of the structures. It is the chronic lack or derangement of function of these various tissues of the body which causes so much alarm, discontent and unhappiness. Close examination may disclose no trace of disease or pain, but nerves and tissues may not be working properly. Like an engine with insufficient fuel, the full supply of nerve force is not forthcoming.

Overwork, worry, dissipation, excesses, etc., are the keynote to nerve derangement. A perfectly nourished nervous system might go on indefinitely.

When CADOMENE TABLETS are directed to the nervous system the cause and origin of the disturbance is reached. By the tonic and nutritive action of Cadomene Tablets on the nerve and tissue cells every muscle, nerve and structure of the system are brought up to par and naturally restored to accomplish their normal work.

The mind brightens, muscular tone is increased, all the bodily functions are regulated, sleep is sound and undisturbed, and the excessive wretchedness of nerve and tissue weakness, discontent and worry are things of the past.

Cadomene Tablets are prepared in convenient form and may be carried around in the pocket or purse and taken regularly.

Obtain from any live druggist, in sealed tube, with full directions.

FOR SALE BY JACOBS' PHARMACY AND ALL LIVE DRUGGISTS.

Family Dinner.

Miss Sally Melone gave a pretty dinner last night at her home, the occasion assembling the members of the family to meet Mr. and Mrs. Charles Emerson Cook, of New York, who arrived Sunday to visit Mrs. Cook's father, Mr. Peyton H. Snook.

The table decoration was a picturesque expression in Fourth of July symbolism and the national colors were observed in a floral centerpiece of red carnations, corn flowers and Shasta daisies. Flags, knapsacks and similar souvenirs marked the places.

Miss Melone wore a dainty summer gown of white organdie.

For Carolina Visitors.

Misses Beulah Ferguson and Elizabeth Bruns, who are visiting relatives in Inman Park, were the honor guests at an afternoon party Saturday given by Mrs. William H. Mills. The apartment was prettily decorated with garden flowers and American flags. Punch was served by little Misses Lura McCorkle, Catherine Shandler and Elizabeth O'Farrell, who presented the guests on leaving with tiny silk flags. During the afternoon dancing was enjoyed and refreshments served. Among those present were:

Children's Party.

Little Miss Frances McKenzie was honor guest at a pretty children's party given yesterday afternoon by little Miss Jane Sharpe at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sharpe, on Fourteenth street.

The table in the dining room had as a centerpiece a basket of pink gladioli and other details of decoration of the table were pink and white. The rooms and the veranda were attractive with garden flowers. The little hostess wore a pretty white lingerie dress with pink ribbons.

The invited guests were:

Misses Clara Bell King, Susan Broyles, Louise King, Jane Hillyer, Virginia Wallace, Ailine Timmons, Jane Carlton, Phoebe Rhett, Jaquelin Moore, Boyle Lokey, Frances Barnett, Doughty Manley and others.

To Miss Stokes.

Mrs. Lee Douglas will entertain a party of young people at the tea-dance Wednesday at the Driving club for her daughter, Miss Natalie Stokes, who returns today from Memphis.

Elysian Club Dance.

The Elysian club will give a dance on Thursday evening, July 6, in the club rooms at Vesper hall. Members may secure invitations for guests by applying to the secretary. Phone Main 1089-L or Main 3064.

Children's Party.

Little Nell Harris was hostess at a children's party Saturday afternoon at the home of her mother, Mrs. Robert H. Harris, on East avenue. The decorations were in the national colors and the favors imitation firecrackers filled with candies and red, white and blue caps. Twenty-five little folks enjoyed the occasion. Mrs. Robert L. Cliett and Mrs. Lella Meer assisted Mrs. Harris in entertaining.

For Miss Walker.

Miss Margaret McCarty will entertain at luncheon Wednesday at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue in compliment to Miss Louise Walker, of Monroe, who is the guest of Miss Helen McCarty.

Miss Dorothy Arkwright entertains at the tea-dance Wednesday afternoon at the Driving club, and Thursday night Mr. Caton Woolfork gives a picnic at his camp near Druid Hills Golf club.

To View Parade.

The Equal Suffrage Party of Georgia invites all of its members and their friends to use the headquarters on Peachtree street to view the parade this morning.

Mrs. Emily McDougald, president.

For Miss Chisman.

Miss Gladys Byrd entertained at luncheon yesterday at her home on North avenue in compliment to Miss Chisman, of the Scoville school, of New York. The decorations of the prettily appointed table were in white and green, the school colors, and the centerpiece was a basket filled with Shasta daisies and fern.

Miss Chisman wore a blue taffeta suit with blouse of Georgette crepe and blue hat to match.

Miss Byrd was gowned in white.

For Visitor.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bonney will entertain informally at supper this evening at "Bumblebee farm" for their visitor, Mrs. Walter S. Blackman, of Salisbury, N. C.

For Miss Wells.

Mrs. Roy Collier was hostess at a sewing party yesterday morning at her home in the Peachtree Circle apartments for Miss Mary Wells, of Columbia, S. C., the guest of Mrs. William Schroder.

In the afternoon Mrs. Claude Douthit entertained at a small bridge tea for Miss Wells. The prizes were silk stockings and a parasol and the decorations were pink gladioli.

For Miss Moran.

Mrs. Joseph Moody entertained at a matinee party yesterday at the Forsyth for her niece, Miss Dorothy Moran. The guests included Miss Moran and Miss Burnham Sheehan, Miss Marian Burt, Miss Margaret Corrigan, Miss Alexa Stirling and Miss Lamar Slaton.

After the matinee they were entertained at tea at the Capital City Country club. The tea table had as its centerpiece a basket of pink roses.

FARMERS PROTEST ACTION OF HARRIS IN COPPER CASE

Expressing great indignation over the reappointment by Governor Nat E. Harris of J. J. Brown to membership on the board of arbitration between the people of the state and the Tennessee Copper company, and the failure of the governor to reappoint Mr. Griffith, whose term has expired, resolutions were adopted at a meeting of the Georgia Farmers' union at Ellijay last Saturday, in accordance with which a committee of one hundred north Georgia citizens will be delegated to call upon the legislature and ask that it appoint a joint committee to make a thorough investigation of conditions against which the citizens complain.

At the meeting last Saturday 500 members of the union were present, and the resolutions were adopted unanimously. The document, while censuring Governor Harris in no unmistakable terms, with equal emphasis laud the conduct of Attorney General Clifford Walker throughout the litigation between the state and the copper company.

The committee drafting the resolutions were presided over by J. T. Deweese, chairman, with F. E. Shippen, clerk, and comprising in addition W. H. Shippen, T. W. Craigo, J. L. Weaver, A. J. Holden, J. I. Hudson and J. B. Dover.

SIX MORE CANDIDATES PAY ENTRANCE FEES

Six additional candidates in the city primary paid their entrance fees to J. E. Belcher, secretary of the city executive committee, yesterday. Those who paid were Nym Hurt, for chief of construction; D. B. Grist, for building inspector; Tom Evans, for city warden; James T. Archer, for council from the second ward; J. N. Renfroe, for council from the first ward; George P. Dickson, for council from the tenth ward. Nym Hurt is the first man for the office of chief of construction to pay his entry fee and thus make known his official entry in the race. His opponent is Henry Collier.

WILL GIVE LUNCHEON FOR STATE'S LEADERS

The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce will give a luncheon at the Southeastern Fair grounds, Lakewood park, Wednesday, July 19, in honor of the governor of Georgia, the president of the senate, the speaker of the house, the members of the general assembly of Georgia and the Georgia Weekly Press association.

JEWISH ALLIANCE WILL CELEBRATE THE FOURTH

The Jewish Educational alliance will celebrate the Fourth of July with a dance at their hall, 90 Capitol avenue, tonight. An elaborate program has been arranged, including a number of patriotic songs. There will be an oration by a well-known local speaker and refreshments will be served.

ATHENS ASKS TO EXTEND WATER SUPPLY SYSTEM

Representative O. H. Arnold, Jr., of Clarke county, yesterday introduced a bill in the house of representatives to permit the town of Athens to amend its charter so as to extend its water supply system.

The city would be empowered under this act to go outside its corporate limits to acquire, by purchase or condemnation, sites for pumping plant, and add thus to its watershed and its source of municipal water supply.

PROPOSES CHANGES IN PENSION SYSTEM

Pensioners of Georgia would be divided into two classes—old soldiers and widows—by a bill introduced in the lower house yesterday by Representative L. S. Ledbetter, of Polk county, and referred to the pension committee.

Under the present law, pensioners of the state are divided into six classes, a system which the author of this remedial bill characterizes as cumbersome. The Ledbetter bill provides that appropriations for pensions shall be made in the aggregate, both of veterans and old soldiers' widows.

NEW QUARTERS LEASED BY WHITEHALL STORE

Chamberlin - Johnson - DuBose Planning to Erect $150,000 Building on Whitehall.

The Chamberlin- Johnson - DuBose company announced Monday that it will build new quarters, fronting on the east side of Whitehall street, near Hunter, and adjoining on the south their present five-story, furniture annex.

The company will move from the present quarters at the southeast corner of Whitehall and Hunter streets into the new building, which, it is understood, will be a five-story reinforced concrete building, costing $150,000, in about a year.

The various leases, it is understood, involve an aggregate rental of about $170,000 during a period of twenty years.

The company leased from John W. Grant and Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall Slaton Nos. 86, 88 and 90 Whitehall street, the last one being occupied by the Hightower Hardware company.

150 Feet on Whitehall.

Leases were also secured from John J. Eagan on three properties of 25 feet frontage each at Nos. 92, 94 and 96 Whitehall street for a similar term of years. The present furniture annex occupies Nos. 86 and 88. Beginning at No. 90 and extending through the Eagan property, a distance of 100 feet, a new, modern, fireproof building of reinforced concrete construction will be erected by the lessees. With the present annex, which has a frontage of 50 feet, the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose company will have a store fronting 150 feet on Whitehall, with a depth of 200 feet, in the heart of the shopping district. The present structures south of the annex will be raised.

The company will also occupy a strip of land leased from Earle Rivers, which is directly in the rear of their present annex.

Each floor of their new building will contain 27,000 square feet of floor space. The building will be completed in about a year, when the company will be ready to move in.

The buildings on the property just leased are occupied as follows: No. 90, Hightower Hardware company, No. 92, the Atlanta Trunk factory, No. 94 is vacant and No. 96 is occupied by Grossman's Skirt factory.

Offers for Property.

No disposition of the present building at the corner of Whitehall and Hunter, occupied by Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose company has been made, although it is understood that Asa G. Candler, who recently purchased it from C. W. McClure, has had several offers for it.

In announcing their lease the company issued the following statement:

"Our newspaper friends, who are very considerate of our wishes, have been insistent that we make—as a matter of news—some statement of our future plans which we have been giving most earnest and careful attention quite a long time.

"We have consummated a long lease on Nos. 86, 88, 90, 92, 94 and 96 Whitehall street, 200 feet south of Hunter street and 75 feet north of Mitchell, upon which we have plans to erect a store suited to our purpose for the present and future of Atlanta as we can think it out and afford.

"Our great ambition and hope is that our city, our state and southland will recognize the effort as not altogether selfish, but brimful of the wish to be regarded as good merchants, with all the good things comprehended therein.

CHAMBERLIN-JOHNSON-DUBOSE COMPANY.

FAIR AND SIZZLING WEATHER PROMISED FOR GREAT PARADE

The weather man says that the temperature will be higher than 90 degrees all during the Fourth of July. It will be fair, however, thus insuring the success of the great parade.

According to the daily weather map, a slight disturbance seemed to be central in the Atlantic east of Florida which is causing local thundershowers near the gulf and south Atlantic coasts. There was also a marked barometric depression in the north central and extreme southwest parts of the country.

Over most of the interior of the country, however, fair weather prevails with high temperatures in the central valley.

Swift & Company's sales of beef in Atlanta, Ga., for the week ending Saturday, July 1, 1916, averaged as follows: Domestic beef, 10.82 cents per pound.

Body and Brain Thrive On Grape-Nuts FOOD

A Volume of Truth

—in fact, many volumes would be required to tell of the purity, deliciousness and satisfaction that goes with every ration of the famous whole wheat and barley food, Grape-Nuts.

Whole wheat is sweet but when malted barley is added then comes a nut-like flavor more tasty and satisfying than is possible in any food made of wheat alone. But the barley does more than heighten the flavor—it gives this food its great digestive qualities.

It is a fact that Grape-Nuts supplies, as does no other food in such splendid proportion, all the nutriment of the grains, including the vital mineral elements often lacking in the daily diet, but which are imperative for mental and physical vigor.

Grape-Nuts is especially processed for easy digestion and yields a wonderful return of sturdy brain, nerve and muscle energy.

Grape-Nuts is always ready to eat—just tilt the packet and add cream or good milk—a delicious dish, richly nourishing and highly satisfying.

ITCHING BURNING SCALP TROUBLE

Formed Almost a Crust. Could Hardly Comb Hair Because of Soreness. Hair Falling Out.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"I was a great sufferer of scalp trouble which afterward formed almost a crust, and I could hardly comb my hair because of such itching, burning, and soreness. I began to scratch which would irritate, my scalp becoming sore, and my hair falling out. I was restless for hours at night before I could sleep, and my hair became thin, dry, and lifeless.

"The trouble lasted nearly a month. I accidentally came across Cuticura, and tried a free sample. Two large-sized boxes of Cuticura Ointment with the Cuticura Soap healed me entirely of scalp trouble in about six weeks." (Signed) Mrs. W. A. Adams, 1711 Cedar St., Richwood, Va., Jan. 25, 1916.

Mortality Experience for the Period Less Than 50 Per Cent of the Expected

The late Edward Atkinson, of Boston, a recognized authority on cotton manufacturing, prior to 1881, publicly stated that he could not conscientiously recommend to his Northern friends investments in Southern cotton mill properties.

Some men of today, especially in the North and East, have emphatically contended that it was and is impossible for the South to establish and maintain its own Life Companies.

The marvelous development of the cotton manufacturing industry at the South strikingly emphasizes the erroneous impression of Mr. Atkinson. The splendid success of The Southern States Life Insurance Company, and of many other Southern life organizations, stamps the statements of those who contended that they could not succeed as not only incorrect, but for the most part viciously misleading.

In an article entitled, "Southern Life Insurance, Its Strength and Importance," by Agency Secretary Robert F. Moore, of The Southern States Life, and published in the Manufacturers' Record, of Baltimore, June 22, 1916, false and injurious statements with regard to Southern life companies are convincingly refuted. This was reproduced, with editorial comment, in The Atlanta Constitution, the Augusta, Ga., Chronicle, and other Southern papers. Copies may be had by application to the office of The Southern States Life.

Speaking editorially in the same issue, the Manufacturers' Record says: "It would be as grave a folly for this section to fail to encourage and develop its own home insurance interests because through unwise management a few companies have failed as it would be for the South to refuse to establish any more banks, to develop any more cotton mills or iron interests, any more farms or any more factories of any kind because some of all of these interests have not succeeded.

"It is time for the South to begin to live at home, to have faith in itself, in its own people and in the potentialities of Southern opportunities. Not until this comes about will there be the well-rounded financial and business development which the marvelous natural advantages of this section justify, and until their development brings general prosperity to the whole South this section will have failed to measure up to its opportunities."

The conservative yet progressive growth of The Southern States Life is convincing evidence that the people of the South stand ready to give support to their home company, whose record has proven it entirely worthy of their confidence.

The 1916 examination of The Southern States Life has just been completed by W. R. Halliday, of Chicago, Consulting Actuary, representing the Insurance Department of Alabama, home State of the Company. In his report, dated June 8, he says:

"It is a pleasure to examine this company. Everything is so clean and satisfactory. The board has recently been strengthened by the addition of the most prominent men in Georgia. The year 1916, so far, has been one of the most prosperous in the history of the Company."

MICHELIN

MICHELIN
Red Inner Tubes

have a world-wide reputation for durability for the following reasons:

1st: Michelin Red-Rubber Tubes are compounded of certain quality-giving ingredients which prevent them from becoming brittle or porous and which preserve their velvety softness indefinitely.

Michelin Tubes are red because these ingredients make them so; but red in itself is no sign of superiority, for there is a "Dyed-Red" as well as the "Michelin Quality-Red."

2nd: Michelin Tubes are not simply pieces of straight tubing with their ends cemented, but are formed on a ring mandrel to exactly the circular shape of the inside of the casing itself and consequently fit perfectly.

Michelin tubes when in service are neither stretched on their outer side nor compressed into wrinkles next to the rim. Thus tube-destroying creases are avoided, and pinching, due to careless fitting, is practically eliminated.

COUNCIL IS ASKED FOR SCHOOL FUNDS

Armistead Seeks to Have Sums Provided in Finance Sheet Set Aside, So That Money Can Be Secured at Once.

Council's action Monday in placing the veto of the mayor on the June finance sheet on file, which amounts to an acceptance, was followed by a resolution by Alderman Armistead asking that certain sums provided in the sheet be set aside at once for the use of the schools.

The paper carried with it a provision to make available something like $30,000 for the purpose of building the necessary additions to the Girls' High school and Boys' High school and the Tech High school, and make other improvements in the system.

Alderman Kelley spoke against the paper, stating that in his opinion the matter should be referred to the special committee appointed for the purpose of making another finance sheet.

Alderman Armistead declared that any delay in the matter of funds for the schools at this time would mean the delay of the opening of the schools in question and would halt the whole progress of the work.

The paper was referred to the special committee by council.

Teacher Who Married Soldier May Retain Position in Schools

Miss Bessie Martin was a teacher in the Lee street school up to the end of the year, but just after the closing session she married a Mr. Normandy. When the call for men came from the government he enlisted and left for the front.

At the meeting of the board of education it was stated that Miss Martin, nee Mrs. Normandy, now wanted to be reinstated in the system as a teacher.

Members of that body pointed out that the marriage of a teacher was her automatic dismissal from the system. Others said that Mrs. Normandy should be reinstated as she was one of the best in the system.

The board suspended action on the matter, but it is probable a resolution will be introduced at the next meeting urging the reinstatement of Mrs. Normandy and the revocation of the rule.

VENABLE IS NAMED RECEIVER BY JUDGE

The application of Mrs. Robert V. Roper, of Newport, R. I., that a receiver be granted for the business of the Venable brothers, was granted by Judge John T. Pendleton in superior court Monday, Samuel H. Venable, who, with Mrs. A. B. Kellog, was a co-defendant in the suit, being appointed.

Mr. Venable will act in the capacity of receiver until the supreme court acts on Judge Pendleton's appointment. Judge Pendleton stated Monday that if the higher court affirms his action he will appoint a co-receiver to act with Mr. Venable.

Ministers to Have Greatest of Times At Annual Picnic

Baptist Conference Plans Picnic at Fair Oaks Monday Which Is to Be a Strictly "Stag" Affair.

Three hundred and sixty-four days have they labored, but the three hundred and sixty-fifth is the private, personal and exclusive property of the members of the Atlanta Baptist Ministers conference, and they are going to make the best of it Monday, July 10.

According to an announcement on that day the ministers of the Atlanta conference will hold their annual picnic. This year it is to be at Fair Oaks, between Atlanta and Marietta, and about 110 Baptist ministers from Atlanta and surrounding towns are looking forward to the occasion.

Aside from being a regular, old-time picnic, it is to be a strictly stag affair. In all the crowd there will not be one of the fairer sex. Each minister, armed with his basket, will attend the picnic unaccompanied by either his wife or family.

Dr. Charles W. Daniel, Dr. John Purser and Rev. Hugh Wallace have been appointed a committee to extend an invitation to all Baptist ministers near Atlanta to join in the good time.

Aside from the regular picnic features, there will be a conference championship ball game. Eighteen of the best players in the conference will be chosen, and they will "stage" one of the greatest "swatfests" that any old-time ball fan has ever seen.

SEWER VETO MESSAGES OF THE MAYOR FILED

Mayor Woodward sent to council Monday a veto message covering several pages providing for sewer works in various sections of the city. His message declared that his action was taken because of the condition of the city's finances. "Figures in the finance sheet will not pay checks," are the last lines in the message. His message was read to council and ordered filed, which is a practical acceptance.

WOODALL TO INSPECT ALL CABS IN ATLANTA

City License Inspector C. L. Woodall will hold an inspection of all cabs in the city at 9 a. m. Thursday, July 6. On the same day he will inspect all taxicabs in the city at 3 p. m. Both inspections will be held on Walton street near Spring.

FORSYTH FOLK TO SHUT SHOP AND VISIT TODAY

Forsyth, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—Forsyth will resemble Goldsmith's "Deserted Village" on July 4. All of the stores will be closed and the local citizens will attend the various attractions over the state. The local ball team plays in Monticello and a large crowd will go to that city to take in the exercises and the ball game. A number of people will go to Atlanta to witness the preparedness parade, while a large crowd will also go to Macon to visit the mobilization camp and to see the parade in that city.

URGE CONVENTION OF PROGRESSIVES

Georgians Telegraph John M. Parker Asking Second Meeting, and Ask That It Be Held in Atlanta.

As the result of a conference held in Atlanta yesterday Georgia progressives have telegraphed John M. Parker, at New Orleans, vice presidential nominee of the progressive party, asking that another national convention of the progressive party be called for the purpose of selecting another nominee in the place of Theodore Roosevelt, who declined to accept the progressive nomination. The Georgians asked that Atlanta be selected as the convention city in event another convention is called.

This telegram to Mr. Parker is in line with the statement of Harry Stillwell Edwards, of Macon, state chairman for the Georgia progressives, that the Georgians are not yet ready to line up with the republicans in the coming campaign.

C. W. McClure, of Atlanta, a leading progressive, stated last night that the telegram to Mr. Parker might be taken as indicative of the sentiment of the Georgia progressives against lining up with the republicans and their determination to perpetuate the life of the party.

Mr. McClure said that Mr. Parker himself had suggested that if another convention is called Atlanta would be a suitable place for such a convention to be held, and that if Atlanta wants the convention the progressives of Georgia will do their utmost to bring the convention here.

The telegram to Mr. Parker was as follows:

"Atlanta, Ga., July 4, 1916.—Hon. John M. Parker, New Orleans, La.: If you think the protest on the part of Indiana and other states will warrant it, call a national convention of the progressive party (preferably in Atlanta, Ga.,) to complete the ticket, and we, of Georgia, will do out best for it.

"J. L. Sibley, campaign manager for Georgia; C. W. McClure, G. R. Hutchens, Dr. F. H. Peck and G. C. Adams, of Missouri."

WADSWORTH INDICTED BY LOCAL U. S. JURY

P. C. Wadsworth, formerly of Atlanta, but now of New York, was indicted Monday by the federal grand jury in connection with his formation of the Cotton Growers' Co-Operative society.

He was indicted on twelve counts. The present indictment takes the place of a former one declared faulty by the New York courts.

One of the counts charges that he represented that J. L. Anderson was the president of the company and St. Elmo Massengale a member of the executive committee, when neither of these men have had any such connection with the society.

It is further shown that the society planned to pay fifteen cents a pound for cotton, three-quarters to be paid down and the balance in bonds, it being claimed that the resources of the society totaled $250,000.

The indictment charges that the society was not capitalized at more than $40,000 and had not more than $1,000 in cash, and was in no position to pay fifteen cents for cotton.

CLAD IN NIGHTGOWN SHE CHASED HUSBAND SO HE CLAIMS IN SUIT

According to a suit for divorce filed in superior court Monday, Mrs. Augusta Witte Anderson, formerly of Newark, N. J., chased her husband, Mangus Anderson, through the streets of Washington, D. C., in her night clothes. Outside of that, the suit also sets forth that the wife scolded her husband incessantly and in many other ways made life miserable for him.

MOONLIGHT SCHOOLS FOR CITY SUGGESTED

It was suggested at the meeting of the board of education yesterday that moonlight schools might be adopted as part of the system here. Superintendent Landrum said he had been watching the progress of such schools in Kentucky and other states and was very much impressed with the good work done. He declared that he hoped to have matters arranged so that the teachers in the system would take turns in conducting a school for grown people who can neither read nor write. They could be held once or twice each week at some central point, he said.

A Pocket Map of Mexico for Our Friends

WE have just received a supply of newly published Maps of Mexico, showing states and territories, cities and towns, also United States Forts in South Texas and along the border. With the hope that our friends will find the Map especially interesting at this time, we will be pleased to have them call and get one, with the compliments of the

RESOURCES OVER ELEVEN MILLIONS

This is a photograph of Grove Park Inn, Sunset Mountain, Asheville, N. C.---the finest Resort Hotel in the world. It is absolutely fireproof and open all the year.

The 120-acre, 18-hole, golf course is the finest in the South---it is a blue grass course. All the water used at the Inn comes from the slopes of Mount Mitchell, the highest mountain east of the Rockies, nearly seven thousand feet altitude. The milk and cream come from Biltmore Dairy on the estate of the late Geo. W. Vanderbilt.

It is the cleanest, most sanitary hotel ever built. Every floor is tile. Every bedroom has Mosaic tile, covered with French rugs made at Aubusson, France. The foods are the finest money can buy. The kitchen is spotless white tile to the roof and pure white Mosaic tile floors. The buildings are built of great mountain boulders---some of the walls are five feet thick---boulders weighing as much as four tons each.

We are three and a half miles from the railroad. The street cars are not allowed to come near enough to be heard. We burn coke---not soft coal. Automobiles not allowed near the building during the night. Thus we have no smoke, no dust, no train noise. We have pure air, commonsense, digestible food, quiet in the bedrooms at night, the finest Orchestra outside of New York and Boston, a great organ, and an atmosphere where refined people and busy business men with their families find great comfort and a good time.

PATRIOTISM ON PARADE.

Atlanta proposes to speak to the rest of the country today her opinion as to the necessity for and the importance of national preparedness.

That opinion will be emphatically voiced in the outpouring of her citizens in today's preparedness parade—business men, professional men, laboring men, and men of every class and calling.

Every man of them will be in line at 9 o'clock this morning, and by short march through the city's business districts will say to city, state and nation that it is our duty to get ready and be ready for any crisis that may confront us.

Sidewalks, street corners and store windows for an hour this morning will be crowded with women and children to see the men of the community standing for their protection.

The Atlanta parade will bring here mayors and delegations from some forty Georgia towns roundabout. They are coming to join Atlanta, with flags and banners, and to say along with us that they stand unalterably for that national security which will keep us out of war, but which will, at the same time, enable us to fight with telling result, if fight is forced upon us.

It is peculiarly fitting that for this demonstration Atlanta should have chosen Independence Day. It is the day of all others to inspire patriotic sentiment, and it makes it doubly our duty to speak, by marching, with a unanimity that cannot be mistaken.

Other cities throughout the country, particularly the larger ones, have held their parades significant of preparedness sentiment. In none of them has true patriotism been lacking. But with the Declaration of Independence at her back, Atlanta has incentive and opportunity the others have not had.

It is the nation's foremost day, nor will there be any half-heartedness in Atlanta's response to it.

BETTER LAND TITLES.

How long do Georgians propose to submit to the foolhardy process of having titles examined and paying a big fee therefor every time a piece of real estate is transferred from one owner to another?

The Georgia legislature has before it now a measure whose enactment will remedy this situation. And it will pass the bill if those who are interested in better land titles will simply insist upon it to the point of showing that they are interested and are anxious to have the Torrens system written into the Georgia statutes.

When a piece of property changes hands today some lawyer or title company makes examination of its past history and charges a substantial fee therefor. When the property next changes hands this examination doesn't amount to a row of pins. The new purchaser must get another lawyer, have another examination made and pay another fee, and so it goes on in endless chain process.

If Georgia had the Torrens system, or a suitable adaptation of it, all of this extraordinary and unnecessary expense would be done away with. But more than that, the inconvenience of the present system and the expenditure of time required for title examination would wholly disappear.

Once the title to a piece of real estate is established before the court under the Torrens system and a certificate of ownership from the court is issued, the status of the title is fixed for all time to come. The purchaser accepts the certificate, has it recorded in his own name, gets a new certificate from the court and there is the end of it. There is no more examination and no more expense for that service.

Georgia's failure to enact a law for the proper registration of land titles can be ascribed only to indifference. Indifference on the part of owners of real estate naturally begets indifference on the part of legislators. There is no doubt about the fact that many individual owners of realty are deeply interested in this matter; but, unfortunately, they have not become stirred up about it in sufficient numbers to incite the legislature to action.

There is scarcely a legislator but will readily admit that the Torrens law is a good thing and that Georgia ought to have it, and yet they do nothing. But sooner or later, unless they do it now, an aroused public sentiment is going to make Georgia legislators wonder why they did not do something along this line before.

If it were a question of state economy there might be some possible excuse; but here is a matter in which registration fees will more than pay the expense involved and remove all doubt as to property ownership.

Besides, the rural credits bill has just been passed by congress. In the enactment of the Torrens law the legislature can make rural credits valuable to Georgia farmers without the unnecessary and too often excessive expense of title examination.

LOCAL SCHOOL TAXATION.

If any argument were needed in behalf of the importance of enacting the bills by President Ogden Persons, of the state senate, amending the constitution so as to bring about a universal system of local taxation for public school purposes throughout the state, it is abundantly found in the figures showing what has been done along this line in the United States as a whole and in specific sections of the country.

The principle of local taxation for public school purposes is now so well established throughout the United States that more than 75 per cent of all the money raised for school purposes in the entire country is secured by this method. A brief study of the following table will show that Georgia is not only behind the country as a whole in the matter of local school taxation, but is at the tail end of the states of the south, all of which, with perhaps the single exception of Alabama, have long since outdistanced her in this solution of the public school problem.

	For the U. S.	Northern Division.	Southern Division.	For Georgia.
Local tax	75.74	80.92	60.71	29.46
State tax	15.65	11.76	28.90	46.18
Other funds	8.61	7.32	10.39	14.36

This indicates that Georgia is at the tag end of the procession. It is 100 per cent behind the northern division and 50 per cent behind the other states of the south, taken in the aggregate. Proportionately speaking, Georgia is contributing more from her state treasury for public education in proportion to the amount of local taxes collected than almost any other state in the union.

What is the answer? Clearly and unmistakably it is that the counties of this state are not doing their duty in the matter of meeting the demands upon them of their own people. They are continuing to depend upon the state to their own disadvantage, for the state cannot, no matter how far it goes, supply sufficient funds to give to each child all the school facilities to which it is fairly entitled.

Moreover, until some definite action is taken to bring about local taxation for school in every county in the state, those counties which contribute nothing toward the education of their own children cannot expect or hope to have either the best of common school facilities or any high schools at all. The important results attained from local taxation have already been demonstrated by the approximately forty Georgia counties which have adopted the local tax system.

To remedy the situation in Georgia, President Persons, of the state senate, proposes two amendments to the constitution, one setting apart a special state tax of two mills to be distributed to the several county and local school systems of the state, according to school population, and the other requiring the board of education in each county to assess and collect annually for the support of public schools, not less than two nor more than five mills on the dollar of all taxable property in the county, the proceeds to be distributed equably among all of the county's public schools.

Certainly there is no county in Georgia which can reasonably object to such requirement as this—to the requirement that it shall help its own children in securing that reasonable education which it is the duty of state and community to give.

It will be a real "Rally 'round the flag, boys," this Glorious Fourth!

Little emblems of "Old Glory" will give a flash of color to the great preparedness parade.

It will not be the oratory of patriotism this time, but the practical evidence of it in the marching thousands of the great parade.

The heart of the country is one today in patriotism and purpose.

Instead of the usual pyrotechnics, we'll just stir the fire of patriotism.

It's a pretty big preparedness school that takes in the whole country.

Nothing but patriotism. Even those who can't go are organizing themselves into home-relief brigades.

A man who has patiently pushed a lawn mower under ninety-in-the-shade conditions is in a pretty fair state of preparedness.

Secretary McAdoo seems to think it will be a job to popularize the half-dollar when all the time people are running for it to the rainbow's end!

Skagerrack Naval Battle Justifies Present Policy Advised by Naval Experts

That the recent sea battle between the British and German fleets has proven a glorification of the dreadnaught, and that it has justified the program advised by naval experts of the United States for the last twenty years, is the assertion made by George Dewey, admiral of the navy and president of the general board of the Navy League of the United States. He asserts this in an article upon "Lessons of Skagerrack," which appear in "Sea Fower," the official publication of the Navy league.

Extracts from the article follow:

The most titanic clash of sea forces in the history of the world took place off the mouth of the Skagerrack, on May 31, between the German and British fleets. From a naval standpoint, this is the most interesting event in the present generation. Its importance is not so much due to the results one way or another in advantage to the contestants as in the lessons it teaches with relation to the qualifications in actual contact of those elements that go to make up the modern fleet.

In the battle of Skagerrack great armored dreadnaughts came to grips for the first time in the history of the world. In that fight the battle cruiser played its part for the first time in a pitched engagement. Light cruisers were in the midst of the fighting and battled and died. Those daredevils of the sea, the destroyers, for the first time in history closed in on first-class ships in broad day light to drive home their torpedoes and take their one chance in a hundred of surviving.

Fought at Short Range.

The German fleet was feeling its way to sea, looking for an opportunity to strike a blow with conditions to its advantage. The British fleet was spread out over three hundred miles of the North sea. The day was hazy and a ship could not be made out more than six miles.

This necessarily short range was to the liking of the Germans. Their fleet was concentrated. They determined to give battle.

Destroyers and trawlers make up the advance line that the British draw across the North sea. Back of these are the fast cruisers. Still further back and subject to call are the battleship squadrons.

The advance line reported the presence of the German fleet. The British were anxious for a decisive battle. The battle-cruiser squadron immediately closed in. It was nearer than the battleships and had thirty knots of speed against their twenty, so it got into the fight first. Admiral Beatty determined to attempt to hold the German fleet until the British battleships could come up.

It appears that three of his ships went to their death early in the fight because of this attempt. The Queen Mary, the Indefatigable, the Invincible, were sunk. It would seem, however, that they inflicted losses upon the enemy that made their sacrifice worth while. They evidently succeeded partially in their purpose. Some of the British dreadnaughts did get into the fight.

But the lesson is this: Battle cruisers, with the weight of their armor sacrificed to speed, with fewer big guns than have dreadnaughts, cannot give and take with the latter class of ships. In grips with dreadnaughts they are pretty sure to be sunk. This has been the theory of naval experts all along, but that moot question of the point to which armor should be sacrificed to speed has never before had any actual experiments upon which to base its deductions.

This was the first phase of the battle. It seems to have been after the sinking of these three ships that the British battleship squadron, led by the Warspite, arrived. There were four ships in this squadron and they immediately plunged into the midst of the fight. They unquestionably came in for a tremendous amount of hammering. Every vessel was struck many times. The Warspite and the Marlborough both suffered many serious hits. The Marlborough was torpedoed. Yet neither of these ships sunk, both found their way back to port and both will soon be back in the service.

Dreadnaught Runs Wild.

Captain Phillpots, of the Warspite, tells a thrilling tale of the experience of his vessel and the punishment she took. His steering gear went wrong and his ship got out of control. She plunged into the midst of the enemy fleet. She drew the concentrated fire of six enemy battleships at one time. She ran amuck and sought to do all the execution possible. Her every gun worked to the maximum.

Yet she stood her punishment and came through. She proved the fitness of herself and her class to perform the purpose for which dreadnaughts are built.

The Warspite is a vessel readily comparable with our own Texas and New York. She has a similar displacement, 27,500 tons. She has eight 15-inch guns where the American ships have ten 14-inch guns. She is four knots faster than are the American ships and her endurance is probably less. What she did American dreadnaughts should be able to do.

The Marlborough is a 25,000-ton ship, of about the class of our Arkansas and Wyoming. She, too, stood a vast amount of punishment, including that of being torpedoed. A number of fighting ships have been sunk in the present war by torpedoes, but they were mostly old vessels and without the resistance of the newer ships. The impression that a torpedo is sure to prove the undoing of the dreadnaughts has not yet been demonstrated and the survival of the Marlborough tends to disprove it.

A third and most interesting phase of the battle of Skagerrack was the attack of destroyers on both sides. These tiny ships, which were intended to serve the purpose of a screen, to be outriders and scouts of the big ships, had currently been regarded heretofore as being incapable of attacking first-class ships in the daytime. Destroyers are intended to creep in on the big ships, unleash their torpedoes, and attempt to escape before they are sunk.

In the North sea battle, the German destroyers descended upon the British fleet, got in close and discharged their torpedoes. It is believed that near a dozen of them were sunk, and it is probably true that they did not succeed in destroying any British first-class ship.

It is believed that the British fleet responded by sending its destroyers into the midst of the German fleet under similar circumstances. Certain it is that something near a dozen British destroyers were lost.

Heavy Loss of Life.

A point of intense interest to the general public in this first big sea fight of modern navies is the high rate of loss of life aboard ships sunk. When a battleship is stripped for action there is certainly no place on her deck for boats that might be used for life-saving. She has aboard, however, pneumatic rafts, and every man has his pneumatic belt which would keep him afloat.

In time of battle, however, there is no time and no inclination to make use of these devices. When a battleship is hit and seriously damaged there is no way of knowing whether or not she is about to sink. It may be possible that she will remain afloat for hours, or that she may not sink at all. Her purpose is to continue to damage the enemy to the greatest possible extent. A single final shot from a sinking ship may be the blow that will turn the tide of battle and the destiny of empires.

All Die With Their Ships.

A damaged battleship, therefore, continues to fight. The men remain in the fire rooms, in the turrets, at their guns. Every man continues that particular job which is his in fighting the ship as long as she may strike a blow. It therefore happens that when the battleship goes down there is practically nobody on deck and there is no man who may leave his post in time to put on a lift belt or launch a raft. Quite naturally every man dies with the ship.

American Program Justified.

There is a constant tendency on the part of the public to go off at a tangent in its enthusiasm for the class of ships that at a given time is attracting wide attention. Last fall, for instance, the public clamored for many submarines. Later the battle cruiser has been attracting much attention to itself because the incidental clashes of the present war have been battles between scout ships. So the clamor this spring has been very largely for battle cruisers.

The dreadnaught has attracted very little attention because she has not heretofore been in the fighting. The public did not see that the very existence of British dreadnaughts in the North sea resulted in the bottling up of all Germany. The present clash demonstrates that in the final issue it is the dreadnaught which means victory or defeat.

GOVERNOR HARRIS SUBMITS REPORT OF W. & A. COMMISSION TO LEGISLATURE

Governor Harris Monday submitted to the general assembly the report of the Western and Atlantic railroad commission, reviewing its work since its creation and carrying certain recommendations.

The report includes data gathered by the commission concerning extending the Western and Atlantic to the sea. J. A. J. Henderson, of Ocilla, has suggested a feasible plan to the committee. The committee has not yet finished its examination of this plan and does not consider it practical to make a comprehensive statement as yet.

In regard to the present property, the commission comments upon the careless supervision exercised by the state over so valuable a piece of property. The report further states that the commission is not yet in possession of sufficiently complete information to justify its reaching a final conclusion as to the numerous questions involved in a wise and advantageous future disposition of the road and its properties.

The commission believes that the consummation of an advantageous leasing of the property is materially handicapped by the restrictions upon the granting of trackage rights by any lessee under the present act.

Special emphasis is laid upon "the numerous encroachments upon the state's property."

The commission recommends certain remedial bills which will subsequently be submitted to the assembly.

Following is a summary of the commission's report:

Extension to the Sea.

In response to advertisments by the commission, inviting propositions in reference to an extension of the state road to the sea, the commission has, up to this date, received only one suggestion.

This was not summitted with such details as would enable the commission to form any opinion as to its feasibility or desirability.

On May 19, the commission requested in writing more detailed information and data in regard to this proposition, but at this date has not been supplied with the same.

Under date of June 22 Mr. J. A. J. Henderson, who submitted the suggestion for himself and unnamed associates, replied to the commission's request of May 19, asking until July 24 in which to supply the necessary and requested information, and the commission has granted his request.

Counsel has had made an exhaustive investigation of all available reports in the capitol in an effort to locate with accuracy such lands at and around St. Marys, title to which may be in the state.

We have also made inquiry of well informed citizens at St. Marys, and in Camden county, and have also received valuable information from the war department at Washington, as to the lands owned by the federal government at Point Peter. From this information, and from another official source, the commission's engineer has prepared a sketch map showing the property owned by the state at Point Peter. With the information referred to, together with the coast and geodetic survey maps already referred to, the commission has in hand valuable information for use in studying and reporting upon the possibility of deep water terminals at St. Marys.

Because of the more present importance, in the opinion of the commission, of securing data and information required in the act concerning the Western and Atlantic Railroad proper, between Atlanta and Chattanooga, and because of the incompleteness of the only proposition received as to an extension to the sea, the commission has not yet completed an investigation and study of the feasibility and desirability of such extension, and respectfully submits that it is not practicable at this time to make a comprehensive report to the general assembly on this subject.

General Comment.

In addition to the progress and condition of the work reported under the foregoing specially named heads, the commission is engaged in gathering proper data and information, much of which, because of its character, is not deemed advisable nor required by the act, to be included in a public report at this time. The act of the general assembly under which the commission was created and is at work, directs the accumulation of a vast volume of information in regard to the state's property, and the work which the commission has been so far engaged upon in preparatory to the discharge of its ultimate duty, which is to make a fair and satisfactory lease of the road, upon terms advantageous to the state, or failing within a reasonable time to accomplish this result to submit recommendations to the general assembly touching some other disposition of the road. The commission has been confronted with many difficulties in its efforts to secure information as to the road, required by the act.

During the course of its investigation, members of the commission have involuntarily, at times, wondered if there was another piece of property in this country, of such value and importance as the state road, concerning which the owners of the property had as little information and had exercised as careless supervision over, as the state of Georgia has with reference to this property; and the task imposed upon the commission of assembling full, accurate and detailed information and facts necessary in reaching satisfactory conclusions as to the advantageous re-leasing, or other future disposition of the road, in whole or in part, has been made slow and difficult by the almost complete lack of connected and satisfactory records concerning the same.

In this connection the commission deems it an act of simple justice and appreciation to express here a sense of its obligations to the present lessee, and particularly to its president, Mr. John Howe Peyton, and its chief engineer, Mr. Hunter McDonald, for their ready and valuable co-operation in its work.

The present lessee has been in possession of the road and its properties for over a quarter of a century, and is far more familiar with the physical properties of the road than is the state itself, and without the hearty co-operation afforded the commission by it, the task of gathering such information as it now has, would have been much more difficult and expensive.

Up to this time the commission has not felt that it was in possession of sufficiently complete and detailed information and data to justify it in reaching final conclusion as to the numerous questions involved in a wise and advantageous future disposition of the road and its properties.

The commission, after careful consideration, has reached the conclusion that the proviso in section 11-A of the lease act, which places certain restrictions upon the granting of trackage rights by any lessee under the act, should be stricken.

The commission is satisfied that this restriction would have a material effect upon the rental which may be offered by any prospective lessee, if it did not altogether cause some possible bidder to refrain from submitting a bid at all. With this amendment, section 11-A of the act would contain substantially the same restrictions as one in the lease act of 1889.

Special attention is directed to the numerous encroachments upon the state's property mentioned under that portion of this report dealing with the program of the work of the commission assigned to counsel, some of which are of minor and others of large importance.

Among the latter are two or three concerning which the commission asks specific legislative direction.

The commission is of the opinion that it is not practicable for the general assembly to investigate and give directions as to the proper disposition of each of several hundred encroachments or adverse uses, and therefore respectfully suggests that it be given authority and power to handle and make final disposition of all these encroachments or adverse uses, except in such cases as it has asked for specific directions.

The commission has had its counsel draft bills concerning the last two above mentioned subjects, and these will be handed to the cheirman of the senate and house committees on the Western and Atlantic railroad with the request that they be instroduced in each house, and with the hope that they may meet with the general assembly's favorable consideration.

The commission is of the opinion that within a comparatively brief period of time, it will be in possession of sufficiently full and detailed information upon which it will feel authorized to invite bids for, or open negotiations looking to the re-lease of the road.

In its opinion it is desirable that this should be now done at the earliest practicable date, as the unexpired term of the present lease is rapidly shortening and in a matter of such magnitude as this, it is vitally important to all interested, that sufficient time be allowed for provisions nessessary to be made prior to the actual expiration of the present lease.

MALONE RE-ELECTED AS TAX ASSESSOR

J. N. Malone, present head of the city tax assessors, was unanimously re-elected to succeed himself for another term at the meeting of council yesterday. His was the only name placed in nomination and after it had been placed before council the nominations were closed and the clerk was authorized to call the roll.

His term is two years beginning at once. Councilman Edwin Johnson made a very nice speech for Mr. Malone in placing his name for election. He spoke of him in the highest terms as "one of the city's most faithful and efficient employees."

ATLANTA ELIMINATES BONDS FOR PLUMBERS

By an ordinance passed yesterday council eliminated the bond of $2,500 placed on all contracting plumbers in the city for the proper fulfillment of their work. The paper was introduced by Councilman Inman, who said it was at the request of about half of the plumbers in the city.

WANTS CITY TO BUY FLAGS FOR SCHOOLS

On motion of Councilman Ashley yesterday, a special conference committee was appointed to consider the resolution providing for the purchase of flags for each of the city schools to be displayed over the buildings. The committee, composed of Councilmen Ashley, Alverson, Mincey, Aldermen Seawright, Spratt and McDonald, recommended that the paper be tabled. This action was taken.

ACCEPTS RESIGNATION OF COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN

The resignation of Councilman Edwin Johnson as chairman of the charter revision committee of council was read to that body yesterday by Mayor Pro-Tem. Jesse Armistead. Council voted to accept the resignation. Alderman Armistead later appointed Alderman Seawright as chairman to fill his place.

RIPPLING RHYMES
BY WALT MASON

TOBACCO.

Tobacco is a harmful weed, the learned physicians are agreed. It stains the teeth and bites the tongue, and injures larynx, heart and lung, it spoils the whiskers, taints the breath, and sends man to an early death, and when he's laid beneath the sod the legal lights divide his wad. And yet if this punk weed were barred, we'd find the sledding pretty hard, for in one thing tobacco's blest, in that it soothes the savage breast. And many husbands are serene, who would be quarrelsome and mean, indulging oft in mental gripes, if you should take away their pipes. When I am smoking I'm as mild as any gent that ever smiled, and folks who hear me chirp and bleat, remark, "His temper is so sweet!" But when, impelled by aims sublime, I cut out smoking for a time, I'm sore as any growling bear that mumbles soupbones in its lair, and all the women in the shack ate hoping I will soon get back to blowing smoke around my room, e'en though it means an early tomb.

By Neill of Muscogee—To prevent the operating of moving picture houses and other amusement places on Sunday.

At 11:45 o'clock the house adiourned to 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. The special train carrying the legislators to Macon leaves Atlanta at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, returning at 6 o'clock.

Senate Bills.

The following new bills were introduced in the senate Monday:

By Senator Moon of the Thirty-seventh—To prohibit the sale or distribution of trading stamps, coupons, etc.

By Senator Persons of the Twenty-second—To establish consolidated school districts.

By Senator Adams of the Thirty-third—To amend the charter of the city of Gainesville so as to make provision for the recall of municipal officers. To amend the general acts for the incoporation of railroads.

COUNTY TREASURERS ASSAILED IN BILLS

Short Session of the House Held on Monday — Many Reform Measures Are Introduced.

Whether this session of the state legislature is to go down in the history of Georgia famous as a reform session, and a terror to county treasurers, it is too early to form an approximately accurate conclusion; but if its record thus far forms a criterion it will long be remembered with delight by reformers, and with as consistent disgust by keepers of the counties' cash.

To date something like a dozen of what may be classed strictly as "reform" measures have been introduced in the house of representatives; and about an equal number of bills intended to abrogate the office of county treasurer.

A former legislature enacted a law making possible the abolishment of this county office and empowering the county authorities to arrange with some local banker as the custodian of the county's funds and designating him a person to perform the duties of the treasurer. The treasurers of Brooks, Catoosa, Jeff Davis and Forsyth counties will find themselves out of office and off their respective counties' pay rolls if bills introduced in the house Monday become law; and doubtless there will be more such bills to follow, as there have been others preceding them on the calendar of this session.

Many, Reform Measures.

As to reform measures introduced, they have more than kept pace with any other class of proposed legislation.

Following the introduced of L. Z. Dorsett's companion anti-concealed weapons bills last Saturday, Monday, among the 34 bills introduced were several measures of importance. Among these worthy mention, and particularly drastic, is the so-called anti-coca-cola bill of Representative A. W. Findley, of Floyd county, which would make a misdemeanor the sale or furnishing to minors of any beverage containing opium, coca leaves or compound therefrom, without the written consent of parent or guardian.

In addition is the bill of Barber, of Grady, to make unlawful the sale of cigarettes or cigarette papers to minors; that of Yeomans, of Terrell, and other representatives, which would confer authority upon towns to make penal the sale of liquor; that of Neill, of Muscogee, for the absolute closing of motion picture theaters and all other places of amusement on Sunday; a bill by Hutcheson, of Turner, and other representatives against the sale of trading stamps by merchants; another by Doris, of Crisp county, to compel the examination and treatment of public school children's teeth.

The house was in session just 45 minutes Monday and the attendance, like the session, was short.

Among the absentees were Speaker Burwell and in his absence Speaker Pro Tem. R. C. LeSueur, of Crawford, presided.

The roll call and the reading of the journal were dispensed with, and shortly following the chaplain's prayer, Representatives Neill of Muscogee, Knight of Berrein and Parks of Upson county each in turn moved to make certain bills of their own the special order by unanimous consent for a certain day. This unanimous consent was not to be had, because Representative R. B. Blackburn, of Fulton, vehemently objected in each instance. He objected, he said, in order to avoid getting the calendar "gummed up," and he said it would be a confusing precedent to start.

Create Cook County.

Then Mr. Knight offered a resolution making a bill to create a county to be named Cook made a special order of business for Tuesday, July 11, and the resolution was referred to the committee on rules.

The committee on counties and county matters reported favorably the bills to amend the road commission act of Appling county, and to abrogate the office of county treasurer of that county.

By unanimous vote the house adopted a resolution introduced by Representatives Bale, of Floyd, and Dorsey, of Cobb county, providing for the appointment of a committee of three to draft a memorial to the late Judge Frederick C. Foster, formerly a member of the house from Morgan county.

The house convened at 11 o'clock and at 11:45 adjourned to reconvene Wednesday at 10 o'clock a. m.

"ONE MORE CHANCE" FOR OLD OFFENDER PROPOSED IN BILL

Violators of the criminal laws of Georgia are to be given the traditional "one more chance," in the event that a bill introduced in the house of representatives by Representative Samuel L. Olive, of Richmond county, is written into the statutes.

The law now provides, under section 1068, penal code of 1910, that upon the second conviction of the same offense the defendant automatically receives the maximum penalty and the longest sentence prescribed for that offense.

Mr. Olive's bill would repeal that section in toto, so that the penalty inflicted upon second offenders would be left entirely at the discretion of the trial judge. And if in the opinion of the court, the defendant merits another chance, any sentence under the maximum might be imposed.

PROPOSED MEASURE WILL STOP USURY

Victim Can Recover Twice the Amount of Usury Charged.

Usury in Georgia will be emphatically under the ban if a bill introduced in the house of representatives yesterday by Representative H. A. Peacock, of Dougherty county, becomes a law.

Under this law, not only would the usurer lose his excess of interest charged, but his victim would be empowered to recover by action twice the amount of the usurious interest paid, provided that the action were started within a year following the time of collection of the usurious interest.

The bill provides that "the taking, receiving, reserving or charging of a rate of interest greater than is allowed by law, when knowingly done, shall be deemed a forfeiture of the entire interest which the note, bill or other evidence of debt carries with it, or which has been agreed to be paid thereon," and then it goes on to provide how and to what extent the person by whom such usurious interest is paid may recover.

This act is said to be aimed at the state banks of Georgia, instances of the charging of excessive interest by which institutions are alleged to be of record. On the statute books now is an anti-usury law, under which the person victimized may recover the excess above the legal rate of interest paid, and in cases where the title to land is connected with a transaction involving usury, the person or firm charging the excessive interest forfeits thereby all claim and title to such land.

The Peacock bill and the present law run about parallel, except that the proposed law doubles the penalty.

COUNCIL APPROVES BILL FOR PAVING PEACHTREE STREET

An ordinance for paving Peachtree street from Fifteenth street to the city limits passed council yesterday. Embodied in the paper was a clause providing that the county shall pay $15,000 as the city's part of the expense. The remainder of the expense for the paving will be borne by the property owners.

The county has addressed a communication to the city agreeing to take care of the city's share of the expense in connection with the pavement.

ICE CREAM LAW UP TO WOODWARD; PASSES COUNCIL

The ordinance of Councilman Woodall prohibiting the selling of ice cream on the streets was reported favorably from the board of health yesterday, and was adopted by council. It becomes effective as soon as signed by the mayor. It will do away with all ice cream peddlers by push carts and otherwise.

REV. J. S. JORDAN, AGED METHODIST MINISTER, DIES

Douglas, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—A very sad death occurred at Hazlehurst last week when the spirit of Rev. J. S. Jordan took its flight, after an illness of several days. Mr. Jordan was about 70 years of age and had been a member of the Methodist conference for about fifty years, retiring two years ago.

After he retired from active work he took up residence in Douglas with his son, J. H. Jordan, and lived here up until a few weeks ago. While here he made many friends, everybody loving him who came in contact with him.

J. H. Jordan, of this city, his son, was with him at the time of his death, as well as a number of his sisters and brothers.

Forsyth Ladies Send Toothsome-Laden Auto To Home Military Co.

Forsyth, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—The people of Forsyth are evidencing a great deal of interest in Company M, Second infantry, national guard of Georgia, which is composed of young men of the best families of Forsyth and Monroe county. At the time mobilization orders were received the company had the maximum peace enlistment of sixty-five men; however, about thirty were discharged for various reasons, yet there are seventy-five men in the company now in camp in Macon. Before the departure of this company from Forsyth the business men of the town agreed to send $100 to the company each month. The first hundred was turned over to Captain Bloodworth on the day the men entrained for the mobilization camp in Macon.

On Sunday the ladies of Forsyth secured a motor truck and sent enough friend chicken, sandwiches, biscuit, cake and other eatables to the boys to give them a large dinner on the day, in fact, so much was sent that there was enough left over for supper. The camp is only about 25 miles from Forsyth, on the national highway, so numbers of people from this section visit the camp each day, and as nearly every one carries something to eat the boys of Company M are well supplied. The company is in charge of Captain O. H. B. Bloodworth, Jr., First Lieutenant B. T. Watkins and Second Lieutenant C. F. Stuart.

Anti-Trading Stamp Measure Introduced By Three Legislators

Fathered by Representatives John B. Hutcheson, of Turner; M. J. Yeomans, of Terrell, and C. D. Redwine, of Fayette county, an anti-trading stamp bill was introduced in the house at its session yesterday morning.

The bill would make illegal the sale or distribution by merchants of any form of trading stamps, coupons, etc., with purchases of merchandise. It provides, however, that the law would not apply to trading stamps and coupons or similar articles issued by the vendor directly to the purchaser of merchandise, in which no one other than the vendor and the purchaser has any interest, and which are redeemable directly by the vendor in this state, either in cash or as a credit or a rebate on the purchase price of goods purchased.

CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL BILL IS INTRODUCED

President Persons, of Senate, Would Establish Community School in Every District.

Monday morning in the senate President G. Ogden Persons introduced a bill to consolidate the school districts, which was drawn up by L. A. Dean, of Rome, chairman of the county board of education of Floyd county.

The bill authorizes the county boards of education to lay out and establish consolidated school districts that shall be political divisions of the state and county; to maintain one or more central schools in such districts; to transport children to and from school; to charge and collect fares from other persons and for articles of commerce and farm products transported, and to allow the counties to raise bonds for the maintenance of such schools. This system, says President Persons, is in vogue in most of the New England and western states and has been eminently successful.

Senator E. T. Moon, of the thirty-seventh, introduced a bill which would make it a misdemeanor to sell or otherwise distribute trading stamps or other such coupons, and Senator J. Q. Adams, of the thirty-third, introduced a measure which would allow the voters of Gainesville a chance to recall the present mayor and aldermen.

Since only sixteen of the forty-four senators were present, the governor's message concerning the W. & A. railroad was not read, but ordered to be printed. The bill creating the new county of Treutlen, which has been reported favorably and read a second time, was put on the calendar as a special order for Wednesday by the rules committee of the senate.

After being in session only thirty-five minutes the senate adjourned until 11 o'clock Wednesday morning in order that the legislators may spend July 4 in Macon to review the preparedness parade of that city.

HUSBAND ATTACKS WILL LEFT BY WIFE

A caveat was filed in the ordinary's court Monday morning by Joel Thomas Daves, husband of the late Mrs. Alice E. Daves, against the petition for the probate of the will of Mrs. Daves, filed by S. H. Venable.

Daves states that the will, made June 11, 1914, which makes S. H. Venable executor, devisee and legatee with Mrs. Maud Eugenia Inglis and Charles H. Collins, was not the true and voluntary will of his wife.

In that will S. H. Venable was given property valued at $55,000 and Mrs. Inglis and Mrs. Collins were bequeathed property valued at $6,000. Mr. Daves was left property valued at $15,000.

In filing the caveat, Daves files also a photograph of a will made and signed by Mrs. Daves April 20, 1911, which he claims is her true and voluntary testament. A date for hearing of the case has not yet been set by Ordinary Jeffries.

DAUGHTER SEARCHES FOR MISSING FATHER

Mrs. J. E. Griffin, of 1094 Sabine Pass, Beaumont, Texas, writes The Constitution asking for information concerning the whereabouts of her father, J. J. Lyle, whom she has not seen for ten years. Mrs. Griffin was formerly Miss Grace Lyle. Any information on the matter will be appreciated by the daughter.

STATE GRANTS CHARTER TO TERMINAL COMPANY

Secretary of State Phil Cook has granted a fifty-year charter to the Savannah River Terminal company, of Augusta, to build a main line and three branch lines of railroad in the city of Augusta for the purpose of making physical connections with certain other tracks in that city.

The company is capitalized at $100,000. The incorporators are Charles A. Wickersham, of Atlanta; William S. Brand, Bryan Cumming, William A. Vincent, of Augusta, and others.

FUNERAL OF PAINTER WILL BE HELD TODAY

The funeral of Gus Paris, painter, who was killed Monday in a fall from a scaffold on a building on Auburn avenue, near Peachtree street, will be held from the undertaking establishment of P. J. Bloomfield & Co., today.

Mr. Paris fell two stories to the pavement. He was rushed to Grady hospital, but died in a short time after receiving the injury. A loose hook, supporting the swinging scaffold, is said to have been the cause of the accident.

Surviving him are his wife, two sons, and three sisters. He was employed by the Grant Sign company.

FOURTH CELEBRATION PLANNED BY AMERICUS

Americus, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—July fourth will be celebrated here Tuesday with a preparedness parade participated in by every secret order, woman and other kind of organization in the city, together with the school children.

Two games of baseball between Rochelle and Eastman will be played, many prizes will be given for Ford day and Paine's fireworks will be displayed at night at the baseball park.

GIFTED GEORGIA WOMAN WILL WORK FOR MEASURE

Mrs. Felton Will Plead for Bill to Allow Women to Practice Law in Georgia.

Mrs. William H. Felton, who has for many years pleaded that the women of Georgia who qualify shall be admitted to the practice of the law in Georgia, will go before the present legislature and plead the some cause again.

Mrs. Felton passed through Atlanta yesterday en route to Cartersville, from a visit to Washington city.

She described an interesting incident of her Washington visit when she said: "On June 30 I went with Miss Laura Maria Berrien, of Waynesboro, Ga., and saw her admitted to the bar of the District of Columbia supreme court. She is a full-fledged lawyer at this hour, and so far as I know, the only Georgia woman admitted to practice in the District of Columbia courts. When admitted to the bar, she happened to be called in the first ten (alphabetically called) and the only woman in that ten as first called.

"I overheard somebody say (a gentleman)—'She is fine.' I find she has won a case in the district courts, which had been reversed and which had a rehearing and success."

ATLANTA-TO-ANDERSON INTERURBAN PLANNED

Bill Introduced in Senate to Prepare Way Legally for Its Construction.

For the purpose of preparing the way legally for the construction of the proposed interurban electric railway from Atlanta to Anderson, S. C., a bill was introduced in the senate Monday to amend the section of the constitution which provides for the incorporation of railroads, so as to include interurban lines.

It is understood that as soon as this amendment is made the Atlanta and Anderson Railway company will make application for charter. It will take thirty days to obtain such a charter after application, and as soon as the charter is granted the actual work of construction of the road will begin.

No Provision Made.

The amendment is asked upon a decision of the supreme court, which points out that when this act was approved, December 7, 1892, electric railways were not in general use, and no provision was made in the act for the extension of such railways. This decision calls the attention of the general assembly to the fact that accurate provision should be made for such enterprises.

The proposed electric railroad will be approximately 150 miles long, the longest electric railway in the south. At Anderson it will connect with the interurban line of James B. Duke, which runs from Charlotte, N. C., to Anderson and Greenwood, S. C., thus forming an electric railway system from Atlanta to Charlotte. The Duke line from Charlotte to Anderson has been in operation for some time. The line from Atlanta to Anderson will represent an investment of more than $10,000,000, and its construction and operation will give employment to many people, and will materially increase the taxable values along its right-of-way.

Seven Counties Profit.

The line from Anderson to Atlanta will run through the following counties:

Hart, Franklin, Madison, Jackson, Barrow, Gwinnett and DeKalb.

In DeKalb county this line will connect with the present line running from Atlanta to Stone Mountain.

This new railroad will go through a very rich section of Georgia and South Carolina, and, it is expected, will do much toward developing the resources of this section.

Julian McCurry, of Hartwell, is registered as the lobbyist of the promoters of the new line. Mr. McCurry is a former member of the house and is ex-president pro tem. of the senate of Georgia.

Augusta Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias Volunteer for War

Augusta, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—The uniform rank of Augusta Knights of Pythias tonight volunteered to the war department and are recruiting up in the expectation of their services being accepted.

The Augusta Volunteers of 100 strong began drilling at the armory tonight in expectation of a call for service.

RAGSDALE MUCH BETTER.

Out of Mayor's Race for Good, He Tells Friends.

I. N. Ragsdale, former member of general council, who has spent several weeks in Indiana for his health, returned to the city Sunday. He says he is feeling a great deal better than when he left. "I have no intention of getting back into the race for mayor," he declared when asked if he would announce for mayor following his retirement from the race just prior to leaving the city. "Although I feel a great deal better than when I left, I am afraid that a political campaign at this time of the year would mean a physical breakdown. I am out of the race for mayor for good.

STILLS ARE DESTROYED IN CHEROKEE COUNTY

The Shoal Creek and Poplar Pit districts of Cherokee county were stirred Monday by the raiding of three large moonshine stills by revenue officers Saturday night. At Shoal creek 4,000 gallons of beer and a 125-gallon copper still were destroyed, while at Poplar Pit two stills were destroyed. The moonshiners were not captured.

NEW THOUGHT SPEAKER MAKES ADDRESS HERE

Robert Bryan Harrison, field lecturer of the New Thought alliance, and who is known in Atlanta as the founder of the Atlanta Psychological society, delivered a lecture Monday evening in Cable Hall. His subject was "You Can Have What You Want."

WANTS HIGH SCHOOL IN EVERY GEORGIA COUNTY

Representative Smith Wants State to Assist Smaller Counties Establish High School.

Representative M. G. Smith, of Dade county, wants a high school established in every county in Georgia, and yesterday he introduced a bill in the lower house in conformity with that desire.

The bill provides that in every county in the state in which there is none already—nor a college or university receiving maintenance appropriations from the state—a high school shall be established, and the governor, commissioner of agriculture and the superintendent of education, according to the act, would constitute a board with authority to institute such high schools.

This board would be compelled to secure the necessary site, comprising not less than five acres of ground, in every county where there is no high school, state-supported or university, and to erect a high school building at a minimum cost of $3,000. Out of the state treasury would be appropriated $1,500 a year toward the pay of teachers for such school in each county, and each county would be compelled to contribute not less than $1,000 a year towards the support of such a school.

Railroad Commission Announces Schedule For Rate Hearing

The railroad commission has announced the method of procedure which will be used in the hearing for the revision of the Georgia freight rates which will begin on Thursday, August 17, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the state capitol. The following is a copy of the schedule:

Thursday, August 17—Opening statements for petitioners and shippers. Application of Atlantic Coast Line for change from class B to class C.

Friday, August 18; Saturday, August 19; Monday, August 21—Explanation of and justification for changes in the class mileage scale.

Tuesday, August 22—Class rates and rate bases from Savannah and Brunswick.

Wednesday, August 23; Thursday, August 24—Class rates and rate bases from Atlanta.

Tuesday, August 29—Class rates and rate bases from Athens and Augusta.

Wednesday, August 30—Class rates and rate bases from Macon and Milledgeville.

Saturday, September 2—Class rates and rate bases from Valdosta, Tifton, Fitzgerald, Waycross and Hawkinsville.

NEWSBOY IS STABBED IN FIGHT ON STREET

Following a dispute which arose over the territory in which they were to sell papers, two newsboys engaged in a fight early Monday morning near Five Points, with the result that one of them, Robert Hodeaux, aged 15, was probably seriously stabbed by Willie Mitchell, a 13-year-old negro boy with whom he was fighting.

The knife penetrated the boy's right lung and his condition is said to be critical at the Grady hospital, where he was taken.

After a chase of several blocks the negro was captured by Officers Howell and Flury and taken to the juvenile detention home. He stated there, according to officers, that a big negro had told him to stab the little white boy.

Young Hodeaux is the son of Mrs. J. W. Hodeaux, a widow who recently accepted a position as stewardess in a Fitzgerald, Ga., hotel.

6 to 45% Advance on this Oil Stock July 10

To Investors: This Company now controls over (30,000) thirty thousand acres of lands and leases in the real oil and gas belt. These properties have been carefully selected and are well blocked into many different properties, reaching into twelve different oil counties. We have actual work started on twenty-one new wells—four to seven of which should be completed during the next two weeks, including several to the deep sands.

This Company may have over two hundred million dollars of oil in these different properties and is determined to put into operation the balance of forty to fifty drills and keep them going until the Company's production reaches twenty thousand barrels per day.

It controls one great lease of about twelve thousand acres northwest of the rich Healdton oil pool on the reported greater anti-cline than Healdton. Derrick is being moved in and drilling will start at once at our choice location on this property where a great producer can be expected. The Healdton field covers less acreage and is now estimated to be worth nearly a quarter of a billion dollars.

Also this Company has recently secured a lease of nearly five thousand acres in Stephens County, Oklahoma, several hundred acres of which are in line between a rich pool near Duncan and another new pool north of Ringling that is developing enormous gas wells at a shallow depth. Bound to be big gas near this gas.

A reported 1700-barrel gusher has just been secured about three miles southeast. A big boom has started in the southern district. Leases are selling as high as five hundred dollars per acre. Drills will be started at once on our valuable property on this great lease in Stephens County.

By Monday, July 10, five to seven new wells in different districts should be completed. Some of them are certain to be rich producers and will justify an advance on the stock from 6 to 45 per cent, which will immediately follow on the advertised price as stated herein.

This Company is offering the moderate investor a real opportunity. It is backed by sufficient strength to continue a big drilling campaign until rich results are secured. It now has nearly one hundred and fifty (150) producing oil and gas wells—and room for about two thousand more. It has three refineries; over 165 miles of pipe line. The Company owns its own tank cars and oil marketing stations. It is the Pioneer Independent in control of a market direct to the people. With just average good luck in our drilling operations the combined properties of this Company should reach a value to the stockholders of over forty million dollars.

The oil fields of the Middle West have hardly been scratched. The future for this powerful Independent is almost unlimited. Millions have been made in oil and millions will be made in oil. The Uncle Sam Oil Company is the great People's Company, now owned by nearly twenty thousand stockholders, representing every congressional district in the United States. It has fought its way through persecution to prosperity. It is really the only big oil stock Company that puts its proposition down in black and white and through the Independent Press takes the public into its confidence.

It is determined to raise $200,000 for quick drilling operations during the immediate future. Good propositions do not last long. The future will soon prove that the time to secure the stock is right now, for it is certain to find ready buyers and the present stockholders are continually paying in large sums.

We plan to invest from 3 to 5 million dollars in new properties and drilling new oil wells. The final authorized issue of stock will make a total of eight hundred million shares. About half of this amount is yet to be issued, and when issued will certainly pay for Five Hundred (500) new wells. By making yourself a stockholder at once and then increasing your holdings under the stock dividend allotment you can now get control of the stock for a payment which would make the entire capital stock equal to less than two million dollars par value.

The present stockholders would not consider a cash sale of our combined property at less than ten million dollars. The stockholders have only paid in about 2½ million dollars, or a gain now of about four times. The Company has many different leases, each of which may develop into a greater value than all the stock will come to on this basis. At this hour we consider the book value of the stock nearly double the sacrifice offer herein to you.

You will not find another investment in the United States that will come within a country block of this offer. This Company can use new capital in drilling test wells that may increase the value of certain leases 10 to 100 times. Alone you could do but little in the oil fields, but your remittance for this stock, combined with a hundred more, will drill a test well on some of our different leases that by such drilling may jump in value 10 to 100 times.

The stock is allotted on a stock dividend basis. After you are a stockholder you will secure the right of the allotment. The greater your first remittance the greater will be your allotment right.

The production of this Company—right now—when all is marketed will total about Forty Thousand Dollars per month and may be doubled by new wells now drilling. In a year's time, by driving the drills, this production is almost sure to be increased five times and may increase fifty times and cause a phenomenal advance on this stock.

We can operate several drills direct from our present production, but we are determined to push ahead with 40 to 50 drills and will permit you to secure a part of this growing in value oil stock to help drive this necessary development work.

The Uncle Sam Oil Company secured renewals on over Four Thousand (4000) acres of oil leases in the Osage Nation a few weeks ago and is now operating two drills on these Osage leases, and will soon increase to ten drills in a district on our Osage leases between a former fifteen hundred barrel well on the east and a sixty million gas well that sprayed oil, on the west.

We are drilling a very valuable lease in the Red Fork district, where we are at work with four drills near the middle of over Twelve Hundred acres.

Our chances are good for some big wells on our Ranch Creek leases in Pawnee county, near the center of about fifteen hundred acres.

This Company also owns a substantial property near the center of the township that contains the great Cushing oil field, in line with a reported 14,000-barrel gusher secured a few months ago. We have our pipe-line completed to this Cushing property and have already developed a rich pool in the shallow sand and now have at great cost 3 deep test wells that will go to 3600 to 4000 feet, and may open the greatest high grade oil pool in the United States.

The Supreme Court of the United States in its decision against the convicted Oil Monopoly branded certain individuals as being in a criminal conspiracy for forty years against all competitors. The families and business associates of these rich conspirators now secretly control or own several big newspapers and magazines in Chicago, New York, and other cities, who, through "fake financial writers" have kept up a continuing conspiracy against The Uncle Sam Oil Company, and are continually printing insinuations and false statements against The Uncle Sam Oil Company to scare the American public from purchasing this valuable stock in this meritorious Company, and thus deprive it of needed capital and retard its growth as a growing competitor of the big combine.

Under these circumstances, we are forced to offer this stock at a great sacrifice. Regardless of persecution and the unlawful acts of the "Paid Press," this big Independent continues to gain, and should soon have sufficient production to operate from 40 to 50 drills after paying satisfactory cash dividends and make the further sacrifice of stock unnecessary.

LATER.

Since the above notice was written this Company has completed a 28,000,000 gas well near the center of its fourteen quarter sections of leases in Pawnee County, near Jennings, where many well informed oil men expect nearly a second Cushing pool. In 6 to 24 days real oil gushers in this district now seem sure. The drills will go deeper day and night and we have started two new wells in the very heart of this new field on different properties.

We have over five miles of line to protect in this field and may start the balance of Forty-two (42) new wells on these valuable leases on completion of wells now drilling, and soon drive this stock in a record breaking advance of from 20 to 50 times.

As part of the consideration the Company reserves the right to approve or reject any subscription to or transfer of its stock. The stock is non-assessable. Remittances will be accepted on the following basis, subject to withdrawal without notice, if mailed not later than July 10, 1916:

SACRIFICE OFFER.

5,000 Shares	.....	37.50
10,000 Shares	.....	70.00

Put an X opposite the stock you want and make all remittances payable to The Uncle Sam Oil Company, by check, draft or money order.

Write your name and address plainly.

VEGETABLE vs MINERAL MEDICINES

If you were as careful of the medicines you take when sick as you are anxious about the disease it is taken for—a wonderful difference in your future health would result.

In a vegetable product like S.S.S. there is no violent after effect—as is found in mineral medicines—but a natural and efficient means of reaching the blood and purifying it, so that it may perform its function readily.

Remember—any mineral is a violent material to cast into your delicate interior. Demand genuine S.S.S. at your druggist, it is purely vegetable and the Standard Blood Remedy.

NO MORNING GAME---TWO IN AFTERNOON

Blind Stab by Fred Graff Saved Game for Lookouts; Roy Moran Batting Star

NO MORNING GAME; TWO THIS AFTERNOON

Manager Charles Frank, of the Crackers is for preparedness. He showed this yesterday afternoon when he announced that the morning game between the Crackers and the Lookouts had been called off so as not to interfere with the parade, and there would be two games in the afternoon, the first starting at 2:30 o'clock.

By Dick Jemison.

A blind stab by Fred Graff, whose fielding has all season been a thorn in the Crackers' side, kept a four-run lead of the Lookouts from melting away in the seventh inning and a game that they had apparently won being switched to the Crackers' side of the ledger.

The snatch referred to above happened in the stand-up session with two Crackers on the runways as the result of free transportation by Jim Allen, former Cracker southpaw, and no one drinking from the water bucket.

Rube Marshall was injected into the fray at this juncture, and the Rube brought not one horseshoe, but a flock of them with him, besides his uniform and glove. Roy Moran, who had connected for a single and a double and walked in his last three trips to the platter, hammered a vicious liner down the third-base line.

Fred Graff leaped to one side and up in the air and stuck out his gloved hand. The pellet stuck, and he doubled Clancy off of second base. Had the drive gone through it would not only have climbed the bank in left field, but would have put the Crackers right in the ball game and possibly ahead of the Lookouts.

Southpaws Erratic.

Jim Allen, former Cracker, and Ad Brennan were the hurling selections of the rival managers. The first named was wild and was in trouble all the time, but managed to extricate himself on nearly every occasion. Brennan was hit hard in the first inning. After that session he settled down and pitched nice ball until relieved in the seventh inning for a pinch hitter, Ed Lafitte finishing the game in fine style.

Rube Marshall was hit lively by the Crackers, a double, two singles and the fierce drive of Moran's being the sum ttoal of the Crackers' attack on him. The game hinged entirely on this drive of Moran's. Had it gotten through a four-run lead of the Lookouts would have melted just as a three-run lead of the Crackers melted in Chattanooga.

Roy Moran and Steve Yerkes were the hitting stars, the former with two singles and a double. He walked once and should have had a clean record for the day, but for the stab repeatedly referred to. Yerkes got a double and a triple. Thrasher got the only other hit the Crackers made.

A nice play at first by Munch, a couple of fast plays at short by McMillan and a great one-handed stab and throw by Yerkes in making a double play were the fielding features from the Cracker standpoint.

Elberfeld and Graff did splendid fielding for the Lookouts, while Pitler was the most effective on the attack. Here's how they scored.

How They Scored.

The Lookouts got off to a four-run lead in the opener. With one gone, Pitler doubled to left. Elberfeld walked. Harris singled, scoring Pitler. Hyatt singled scoring Elberfelt, sending Harris to third and taking second on the throw in. Harris scored on Graff's infield out. Hyatt scored on Kitchen's single to left.

Moran's single and Yerkes' triple gave the Crackers one back in their half of the first.

Walker singled to start the Lookouts' second. Allen forced him at second. Messenger walked and Elberfeld was hit by a pitched ball, filling the bases. Harris grounded to McMillan, who made his usual fumble, and Allen scored.

The Crackers sprang a rally in the ninth, but it fell two short of tying McMillan walked. Thrasher singled to right and when Walker let the ball go through, McMillan scored and Thrasher went to third. Moran singled, scoring Tharsher, but Mayer and Yerkes were easy.

New Orleans, July 3.—Memphis batsmen were unable to hit Townsend opportunely today and the Pelicans won the first game of the series, 8 to 1. Thomas, of New Orleans, secured four hits in four times at bat. Manager Dobbs was benched in the fourth inning when he protested Umpire Breitenstein's decision in calling Higgins out for interference of a throw by Ruel, who sought to catch Thomas stealing second.

INVITATION GOLF MEET AT EAST LAKE

Annual Event Will Start With Qualifying Round Slated for Thursday—Big Entry List.

The annual invitation golf tournament of the Atlanta Athletic club will be held over the East Lake course of the club Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 6, 7 and 8.

As many flights as fill will be played. The first flight will be for the invitation trophy, the second for the East Lake trophy, the third for the Ponce de Leon trophy, the fourth for the DeKalb trophy and the fifth for the Piedmont trophy.

In addition to these prizes and the prizes for the winners of any additional flights that fill there will be a cup for the low qualifying score, a cup for the winning team of four, a cup for the defeated eight in the first flight.

Players may match themselves for the qualifying round, provided they do not select club mates. The committee will pair all players who have not reported pairings to them by Wednesday, July 5, and players are requested to send their entries by that time to the secretary of the Country club.

The Program.

Thursday, July 6, will be devoted to the qualifying round. The first sixteen will qualify for the invitation trophy, the second sixteen for the East Lake trophy, and so on down the line.

Friday morning the first round will be played in all flights. Friday afternoon second round in all flights and first round defeated eight first flight.

Saturday morning, the semi-finals will be played in all flights and Saturday afternoon, the finals will be played in all flights.

Saturday night at 8 o'clock following a dinner-dance the trophies will be presented to the winners at the country club.

All matches will be eighteen holes. The team of four men must be designated by the respective clubs prior to entering the qualifying round. Rules of the Southern Golf association will govern the tournament.

Pairings and time of starting will be published in the morning paper and each couple must be ready to start when their names are called.

The entry fee will be $3. The courtesy of the Druid Hills golf course, the Capital City Country club golf course and the Ansley Park golf course will be extended to visiting players during tournament week.

SEMI-FINALS ARE REACHED AT C. C. C. C.

Finals in the First and Third Flights Are Reached for President's Cup.

The semi-finals have been finished in the first flight of the tournament at the Capital City Country club and Dowdell Brown meets C. H. Cox in the finals to decide the winner of the president's trophy.

Brown entered the finals by defeating E. G. Ottley, 5 up and 4 to play, while Cox earned his right by defeating C. H. Ridley, 4 up and 3 to play. Both of these men have been playing good golf during the tournament and will no doubt stage a hectic battle for the trophy.

The finals have also been reached in the third flight, W. S. Hickey meeting Claude Douthit for the prize. The finals in the other two flights have not been reached, but the players still have Tuesday and Wednesday in which to play them.

The results of matches are as follows:

FIRST FLIGHT.
Second Round.

E. G. Ottley defeated Miltan Dargan, Jr., 4-2.
Dowdell Brown defeated E. Rivers, 3-2.
C. H. Ridley defeated C. P. King, 4-3.
C. H. Cox defeated J. S. Raine, 4-2.
Semi-Finals.
Dowdell Brown defeated E. G. Ottley, 5-4.
C. H. Cox defeated C. H. Ridley, 4-3.

SECOND FLIGHT.
First Round.

E. A. Thornwell defeated R. L. Reed by default.
K. W. Smith defeated John Aldredge by default.
Second Round.
B. M. Grant defeated E. A. Kalkhurst, 2 up.
Russell Bridges defeated E. A. Thornwell, 1 up.
C. T. Nunnally defeated K. W. Smith, 6-5.
H. W. Lyons defeated P. D. McCarley, 1 up.

THIRD FLIGHT.
First Round.

J. P. Allen defeated J. H. Hines by default.
Second Round.
W. S. Hickey defeated Willis Timmons, 3-2.
J. P. Allen defeated R. H. Martin, 3-1, 27 holes.
J. R. Porter defeated R. S. Malone, 2 up.
Claude Douthit won by default, the first round match failing to be played.
Semi-Finals.
W. S. Hickey defeated J. P. Allen, 5-3.
Claude Douthit defeated J. R. Porter, 1 up.

FOURTH FLIGHT.
First Round.

J. S. Cohen defeated O. D. Gorman, 3-2.
Second Round.
J. R. Gray defeated G. M. Greene, 2-1.
J. S. Cohen defeated W. H. White, Jr., 3-2.
A. E. Haigh defeated C. H. Godfrey by default.
E. R. Black defeated Macon Martin by default.

CARLETON SMITH WINS, BUT MANSFIELD LOSES

Memphis, Tenn., July 3.—Sixty-four players made up the field which started first round match play today in the twenty-ninth championship tournament of the Southern Tennis association on the courts of the Memphis Country club. Of the visiting players, all won their matches with the exception of Eston Mansfield, of Atlanta, who was defeated by J. W. McDonnell, of Memphis, 6-1, 6-4. Douglas Watters, of New Orleans, who won the Tennessee championship in Nashville Saturday, and Henry Burns, also of New Orleans, won their matches today with ease. Carleton Smith, of Atlanta, defeated J. A. Ayres, of Memphis, 6-1, 6-3.

J. S. Abbott, of Dallas, Texas, who was defeated in the finals last year by E. V. Carter, of Atlanta, won today by default.

Play in the doubles will begin tomorrow. Bryan Grant, who with Nat Thornton, made up the Atlanta team, which won the doubles title last year, allowed his match in the singles to go by default. It was expected, however, that Grant will arrive in time to compete in the doubles. Thornton and Carter, the singles titleholder, both have announced that they will not compete in the 1916 tournament.

BERNHARD RESIGNS; BAUGH PRAISES HIM

Birmingham, Ala., July 3.—(Special.) Umpire Bill Bernhard resigned his position today, taking effect immediately. Bernhard gave as his reason that he wanted to enter business with his father in California. President Baugh paid a high tribute to the former Nashville and Memphis pilot.

"He was one of the best umpires on the staff, and I certainly hate to lose him," said President Baugh. "Bernhard has given the league valuable service, and it will be hard to find an arbiter who can give as much satisfaction."

No successor has been named as yet, but it is understood that Umpire Brennan, of the Three III league and formerly of the National league, will be offered the position.

EBBETTS ASKS PENALTY ON THE "BEAN BALL"

New Cork, July 3.—Charles Ebbets, president of the Brooklyn National league baseball club, has written President Tener, requesting that umpires be instructed to give the batter his base when the "bean ball" is thrown by a pitcher.

In addition to citing the death of Player Dodge at Mobile and the recent Mays case in the American league, Mr. Ebbets says that Pitcher Barnes, of the Boston Nationals, narrowly missed hitting both Stengel and Daubert on the head in a recent game in Brooklyn, and that Pitcher Tesreau, of the Giants, actually did hit Daubert on the head in a game on the Brooklyn grounds.

TEX M'DONALD ON THE INELIGIBLE LIST

Birmingham, July 3.—(Special.)—Manager Molesworth announced today that Tex McDonald had been placed on the ineligible list for 15 days. Tex was hit on the head by a pitched ball in Memphis last week by Cy Barger and has not recovered sufficiently to enter the game. The blow is having some effect on the former Crackers' eyesight, but nothing serious is expected. Cecil Coombs, who has been on the ineligible list for the past month, will re-enter the game tomorrow.

Ball Ground 5, Nelson 4.

Nelson, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—Ball Ground defeated Nelson here Saturday by the score of 5 to 4 in one of the colsest games ever seen in Nelson. It was a pitchers' battle between Baker, of Ball Ground, and McGloughlin. The honors were about even, although Baker allowed only 7 scattered hits, while 5 clean bingles were extracted in bunches from McGloughlin. Baker won his own game in the ninth, hitting for two sacks with two men on bases.

The feature of the game was a one-handed stab by Hyde in the seventh inning and the fielding of "Old Turk."

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Ball Ground .....000 000 032—5 9 2
Nelson .....000 000 301—4 7 2
Batteries—Baker and Gibbs; McGloughlin and Little.

Concord 18, Molena 1.

Concord, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—In a runaway game Saturday afternoon, Concord defeated Molena on the latter's grounds by the score of 18 to 1. The pitching of Howard and hitting of the Concord team featured.

Batteries—Concord, Howard and Howard; Molena, Haynes, Hooten, Strickland and Sardin.

Dublin 6, Dexter 4.

Dublin, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—Dublin took a fast game of baseball from Dexter this afternoon by score of 6 to 4. Uniformly good ball was played by both sides during the game, with a minimum of errors. Batteries, Dexter, Alligood, Sap and Phillips; Dublin, Towns and Satterfield.

SOUTH ATLANTIC

Tourists 6, Tigers 5.

Augusta, Ga., July 3.—Brazier's single in the tenth, with Eubanks on second, which station he had reached on a walk and a sacrifice, won today's game for the Tourists. Epting and Baumgartner were wild, and the former was hit hard. The Tigers bunched five hits in the sixth, scoring four runs. Except in this inning, Pratt twirled in excellent form.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Macon .....010 004 000 0—5 10 5
Augusta .....010 112 000 1—6 11 2
Batteries—Epting, Baumgartner and Snyder; Pratt and Eubanks. Time, 2:05. Umpire, Krebs.

Babies 3, Scouts 1.

Jacksonville, Fla., July 3.—The Jacksonville batsmen were helpless before the masterful pitching of Sikes today, who held the locals to three hits, only two of which were made in one inning. Currie also pitched good ball, but was outclassed by his opponent, Albany winning 3 to 1.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Albany ..... 100 001 100—3 9 1
Jacksonville ..... 000 100 000—1 3 2
Batteries—Sikes and Clarke; Currie and Baker. Time, 1:46. Umpire, Erwin.

Gamecocks 8, Foxes 2.

Columbia, S. C., July 3.—Mohart was steady in the pinches today, while the home team hit Cornelius hard. Columbia defeating Columbus 8 to 2. The contest was played under lowering skies and was constantly menaced by rain. The fielding of Mohart and catching of Connally featured, as did the hitting of Wofford in the pinches. Manager Herndon was the most consistent performer for his team.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Columbus ..... 000 001 10—2 9 4
Columbia ..... 201 221 00x—8 13 1
Batteries—Cornelius and Widener; Mohart and Connolly. Time, 1:41. Umpire, Moran.

Gulls 0, Billies 0.

Charleston, S. C., July 3.—Charleston and Montgomery played a 14-inning runless game today, darkness ending the contest. It was a pretty pitchers' duel between Cox, for the Gulls, and Hodge, for the Senators. Cox did not give a base on balls and struck out nine batters. Sensational fielding on both sides featured. With one out in the thirteenth, Montgomery got a runner to third on an error and a wild pitch, but could not score. Umpire Hoey was painfully injured by being hit with a foul tip, but gamely stuck tl game out.

Score by innings: R.
Montgomery .... 000 000 000 000 00—0
Charleston ..... 000 000 000 000 00—0
Batteries—Hodge and Moorefield, Cox and Hoffmann. Time, 2:38. Umpire, Hoey.

DIXIE LEAGUE

Bainbridge 4, Moultrie 1.

Bainbridge, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—With Smith pitching air-tight ball, Moultrie had but little chance this afternoon; but for a couple of errors in the ninth, Smith would have had a shut-out.

Barrow caught a beautiful game for Bainbridge and made three hits, one a double. Frentz was batted from the box in the fourth. Cashion, who relieved him, pitched well.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Moultrie ..... 000 000 001—1 7 0
Bainbridge ..... 010 300 00x—4 8 3
Batteries—Frentz, Cashion and Swann; Smith and Barrow. Time 1:33. Umpire Barr.

Dothan 6, Eufaula 4.

Eufaula, Ala., July 3.—(Special.)—Dothan defeated the Pig Iron boys here this afternoon, 6 to 4. The game was played on a wet field, but both teams played remarkably well. The hitting of Chambers and Spitzenagle, for the visitors, featured.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Dothan ..... 021 000 036—6 10 2
Eufaula ..... 100 000 30x—4 10 4
Batteries—Page, Register and Taylor; Lenning, Wilson and McPherson. Umpire, Gentle. Time 2 hours.

Valdosta 6, Quitman 5.

Quitman, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—Valdosta won a see-saw comedy here this afternoon. Quitman took the lead in the eighth by making four runs on one hit, only to let Valdosta tie them up in the ninth, while in the tenth the Quitman players managed to throw the game away. The hitting and fielding of Wicker was all to remind the fans that they were at a league ball game.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Quitman ..... 000 000 140 0—5 4 4
Valdosta ..... 100 000 202 1—6 8 3
Batteries—Freck, Moore and Conley; Jeter and Thompson. Umpire Colby.

QUERIES ANSWERED

(Under this head the sporting editor will endeavor to answer all questions pertaining to all branches of sports.)

What teams will play in New York July 12 to 22, inclusive? W. A. S.

Cleveland, Detroit and St. Louis Americans.

To settle an argument that freqquently arises: Is a fielder, for instance, first baseman, who handles a ground ball, and completes the play by running to the bag and retiring the batter, entitled to credit for an assist and a put-out? C. J. O.

No; just a put-out.

Would you be so kind as to advise me, through your sporting columns, of the dates and teams that Atlanta plays at home in July? L. B. JONES.

July 4, 20, 21, 22, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29.

Atlanta All-Stars Win.

Douglasville, Ga., July 3.—(Special.) Pack's All-Star team, of Atlanta, defeated the locals here this afternoon 7 to 1. Errors by the locals were responsible for most of the visitors' runs. Harding was relieved by Osborne in the first inning and he held the visitors in check the remainder of the game. Spurlock's hitting featured the game.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
All Stars .....500 000 020—7 5 2
Douglasville .....000 000 001—1 7 5
Batteries—Rimer and Baker; Harding and Smith and Osborne and Cooper.

GRANT PARK TENNIS FINALS ON TODAY

Unless the weather man interferes for a fourth time, the final matches of the Grant Park tennis tournament will be played off on the afternoon of the Fourth. In the singles match J. C. Shelor meets Charles F. Winburn. In the doubles, C. J. Blein and Tom Jones hook up with Winburn and Shelor.

Compton to Pirates.

Boston, July 3.—Outfielder Compton, of the Boston Nationals, has been sold to Pittsburg, it was announced today. Pittsburg had refused to waive on him.

GA.-ALA. LEAGUE

Rome 4, LaGrange 2.

Rome, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—Romans played LaGrange off their feet today, winning the first of the series 4 to 2. Wiley twirled a wonderful game for the locals, holding the visitors hitless for eight innings. Hollingsworth did not get the support he deserved. The feature of the game was the all-around playing of the entire Rome club, with circus catches by Donaldson, Tolbert, Pond the individuals starring. Ginn and Bowen played best for the visitors. The former starred at bat.

Talladega 2, Anniston 1.

Talladega, Ala., July 3.—(Special.)—In the fastest and prettiest game played here this season, Talladega defeated Anniston 2 to 1.

It was a pitchers' battle between Hawkins and Raburn. Hawkins was hit hard, but kept them scattered. Allen, a new shortstop, played his first game with the locals today, and played a stellar game. Bowden featured at bat, getting a home run and single. Camp and Gooch starred at bat for Talladega. On the fourth they play a morning game and go to Anniston for an evening game.

Newnan 5, Griffin 0.

Griffin, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—Terry held Griffin to two scratch hits and won easily 5 to 0. Watson was hit when hits meant runs. Terry deserved a no-hit game, but was robbed of it by "bones" pulled by his teammates. Davis performed with the stick, getting a single, two two-baggers and a home run out of four times up. He also stole two bases. Griffin had three on in the ninth, with one down, but could not score. One of tomorrow's games will be played in the morning and the other in the afternoon.

BUILDING ACTIVITY SWEEPS MANCHESTER

Manchester, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—Dirt was today broken on Main street preparatory to the erection of a two-story brick store building for A. Hoffman. W. B. Fuller has the contract to erect this building.

The J. P. Corley Lumber company has this week started the foundation and making arrangements for the rapid construction of the new ten-room annex to the city school building. This annex is estimated to cost $12,000, and when completed will give 20 modernly equipped rooms, and will be sufficient to accommodate some 650 pupils.

The Manchester Cotton mills have just closed contract for the erection of seven additional dwelling houses to be erected on their property. Approximately 75 new dwelling houses have been erected by this mill during the past eight months.

I. H. Davis and I. N. Johnson have recently had erected on their property in the suburbs of Manchester about one dozen cottages.

It is known that three additional store buildings for Manchester are now being contemplated.

New York, July 3.—The cotton market was comparatively quiet today and while fluctuations were irregular, prices showed a tendency to steady after the sensational break of Saturday. October contracts, for instance, sold up to 12.98, or 7 points above Saturday's final figures, and closed at 12.96, with the general list closing steady at a net advance of 3 to 4 points.

Liverpool just about met the decline which followed the publication of the government's crop report in the market here at the end of last week, and there were a good many selling orders around the ring at the opening. The initial tone was more or less unsettled in consequence, with first prices 3 points lower to 5 points higher, but the market quickly steadied on active buying by brokers with Wall street connections.

The gossip was that this demand reflected the replacing of a long line on which profits had been taken some days ago, and the buying which was estimated in the neighborhood of 30,000 bales proved sufficient to take care of the early selling.

After working about 6 to 8 points net higher on this support and scattered covering, the market reacted under continued liquidation or local selling which may have been inspired by reports of rains in droughty sections of southwest Texas. October eased off from 12.98 to 12.89, while December sold off from 13.17 to 13.07, or a couple of points under Saturday's final figures, but the pressure soon subsided and prices steadied up later in the afternoon on bullish southern spot advices. New Orleans buying, and renewed covering. Closing quotations were within 3 or 4 points of the best.

Private cables attributed the decline in Liverpool to near month liquidation and the influence of Saturday's government crop report. Except for the reports that rain had fallen in the extreme southwest, the day's weather news seemed to attract no attention, and the volume of business was probably restricted by holiday considerations.

New Orleans Rises 1 to 5 Points.

New Orleans, July 3.—After a small decline around the opening of the market today, cotton showed improvement which was somewhat in the nature of a reaction from the severe decline which featured the receipt of the government crop reports Saturday. It was largely a holiday market and little business was done except during a short period of activity in the early trading. The close was at a net gain of 1 to 5 points.

Opening at the decline, the market quickly lost 4 to 8 points under liquidation from the long side. July showed the widest loss. Brokers had a considerable number of selling orders, but after these offerings were absorbed further pressure did not develop, the bears making no attempt to follow up the advantage given them by the acreage and condition returns. On the contrary, shorts seemed disposed to take their profits and even up over the holiday. To some extent this was thought by most brokers to be due to reported successes of the entente allies, which are leading to renewed talk of early peace and a greatly increased export movement. At its highest levels, reached before noon, the market stood at a net rise of 9 to 11 points on the new crop months. July was inactive and was 2 points up net at its best.

DULLNESS RULES IN STOCK MARKET

Turnover Is Light in Mid-Holiday Session--Improved Mexican Outlook Begets Some Strength in the Final Hour.

New York, July 3.—Coming between two holidays, today's market was insignificant and unimportant to the last degree. Dealings were light and contracted at the outset, because increasingly dull at midday, and lapsed into absolute stagnation later, the total turnover hardly approximating 250,000 shares.

Attendance of traders was the smallest of any regular session for many weeks and outside interest was utterly lacking. The short interest found further excuse for attacking special stocks in the tax of 5 to 8 per cent which the government intends to levy upon gross earnings of munitions companies and related concerns.

Declines of 2 to 4 points were recorded during the forenoon by various speculative issues, the weakest features being United States Industrial Alcohol, Crucible Steel, Baldwin Locomotive and the motors. Metal shares also were depressed by the additional break in copper and allied products in the London market.

Mexicans made pronounced recovery on the more favorable outlook in the country and such ill-assorted stocks as Mercantile Marines, Texas Company, Sears-Roebuck and Cuban Cane Sugar were fairly strong throughout.

Rails of the investment class were dull, but variably better, especially the trans-continental group, with considerable activity at gains of a point or more for Southern Railway and Wabash preferred shares. Such minor rails as Iowa Central and Minneapolis and St. Paul were weak on very light offerings.

The market was at its best in the final hour, improvement being due to rumors that an understanding involving the early removal of our forces from Mexico had been reported. Mexican Petroleum made an extreme gain of 4 points and other specialties recovered greater part of their losses.

Bonds were firm with a steady inquiry for Anglo-French and Canadian issues at slight advances. Total sales of bonds, par value, $1,920,000.

United States coupon and registered 2s and registered 4s, as well as Panama 2s, declined ½ per cent on call, with sales of United States coupon 3s at an advance of ¼ per cent.

SECOND REGIMENT TO LEAVE FOR BORDER SOON

the other Atlanta units, field hospital corps No. 1 and Second squadron cavalry, will be among the first to follow the Second regiment. The Second is composed of the Macon Volunteers, Macon Floyd Rifles, Macon Huzzars, Macon machine gun company, Dawson hospital corps, Dawson band and companies from Jackson, Monroe, Griffin, Barnesville, Forsyth, Milledgeville, Americus and Albany, its roster being 1,200 men.

Orders were received from the war department to hold second examinations of all men disqualified by the United States medical corps. This is expected to be a boon to the Second regiment, in event many of the men who stand the second inspection are reinstated. More than 20 per cent of this regiment was disqualified.

The 10 per cent disqualification of the Fifth regiment will also be reexamined. All discharges will be given to the men from Washington next Saturday.

Soldiers in Preparedness Parade.

For the first time in many years the entire national guard of Georgia will pass in review before the Governor and legislature, when Macon's monster preparedness parade, embodying 6,575 militiamen now in federal service, winds through the downtown streets beginning at noon and lasting until nightfall.

Brigadier General Walter Harris tonight announced that the soldiery would positively be entered in the parade. Previous to his announcement there had been doubts. Governor Harris, his staff, and members of the legislature will reach Macon Tuesday morning. All troop divisions will participate in the pageant.

Only the cavalry will fail to march. Because this unit has no mounts, the war department having specified that animals will be given it at the Mexican border, the cavalry members will serve as provost guards to aid the police in keeping the path of the parade clear, and in handling the enormous crowds that have already begun pouring into the city.

The military division of the parade will get under way by 9 o'clock in the afternoon. Brigadier General Harris, a son of Governor Nat E. Harris, with his staff, will ride at the head of the troops.

It was announced late this afternoon that Captain J. M. Kimbrough, of Augusta, instructor of the Georgia soldiery, had been assigned by the war department to the Second regiment infantry to serve as lieutenant-colonel. He assumes rank at once. The Second had petitioned Washington for his services.

The war department also arranged for Major W. T. Spratt, ordnance officer who was relieved of duty because of no provision for his office in the new militia regulations, to remain with the Georgia brigade in an office that is yet to be selected.

The office of garrison surgeon has been inaugurated, and Captain W. G. Miles appointed, with Captain A. F. Quillian assistant surgeon. Captain W. L. Matthews, who had performed the duties of camp surgeon in the rank of sanitary inspector, was relieved of duties.

THE DAY'S GRIST FROM THE STATE POLITICAL MILL

CANDIDATES ADDRESS TATNALL COUNTY FOLK

During the noon recess of court Peter W. Meldrim, candidate for the first district congressman, followed him.

DORSEY CLUB FORMED IN WHITFIELD COUNTY

Dalton, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—At a meeting held at the courthouse Saturday afternoon a Dorsey club was organized for Whitfield county. George G. Glenn, former representative from this county, was elected chairman, and R. H. House, a well-known young attorney, was elected secretary. Some very interesting speeches were made and the club started out with a membership of 354.

This is the largest political organization of its kind that has ever been formed in Whitfield county. Mr. Dorsey's friends are enthusiastic in his behalf, and state that he will carry Whitfield by an overwhelming majority.

TWO CANDIDATES FOR JUDGE IN ALBANY JUDICIAL CIRCUIT

Bainbridge, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—While the office of the judgeship of the Albany circuit is being actively sought by two candidates, Judge W. M. Harrell, of Bainbridge, and Judge A. S. Johnson, of Camilla, it appears that Solicitor General R. C. Bell, of Cairo, is to slide in without opposition. Mr. Bell created a political sensation in this district four years ago when he overwhelmingly defeated the late Solicitor Bill Wooten, of Albany, one of the best prosecuting officers in the state and considered an invincible campaigner. Mr. Bell has made a most efficient solicitor, and the consensus of opinion is that he should have another term without opposition.

CANDIDATES TO SPEAK AT EDISON "VET" MEET AND CUE

Bainbridge, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—Edison, a hustling little city up the Georgia, Florida and Alabama, is planning the banner event of this section for Wednesday, July 12. The principal attraction will be a reunion of the Georgia brigade of confederate veterans, with barbecue, baseball and political speeches to help out.

Governor Harris and Judge Eugene Cox, candidate for congress from the second district, will be among the speakers. The Georgia, Florida and Alabama will operate special trains to handle the crowds expected.

NO OPPOSITION FOR PRESENT DECATUR SOLONS

Bainbridge, Ga., July 3.—It begins to look like there will be no contest in Decatur county this year for the two places as representative. Both the incumbents, E. H. Griffin, editor of The Post-Searchlight, and A. B. Conger, a member of the bar, are candidates to succeed themselves, and thus far there has been no intimation of opposition to either. Messrs. Conger and Griffin are serving their first terms and hold good committee assignments.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, July 3.—(Special.)—The overholiday and before-holiday tendency to liquidate long cotton was partially taken care of today by the purchase of about 25,000 bales by prominent interests who are pinning their faith in peace to follow the military gains of the allies of the past two days. Five miles will not push the Germans back to their own territory, and the German emperor would have a hard time preventing an internal revolution if he should make peace on the terms which he might secure peace, while his troops hold foreign soil. Peace is not yet at hand, but the buying power of the cotton market must assert itself in the self-same fashion daily to prevent a serious decline, for the report on Saturday and the daily developments of statistics has finally made a showing that the bulls will have a hard time in explaining without the crop turning poor. We continue to think the market will work to lower levels, nolens volens. And we cannot advise our friends to buy cotton until they see the crop poor enough to justify the idea that the price is on an investment basis. The early movement of the new crop will not find many buyers. The American trade is already well taken care of, and the foreign trade are in no humor to buy extravagantly.

KENSKORF, LYON & CO.

New York, July 3.—(Special.)—While rather heavy liquidation occurred in this market early today, prices held steady owing to an active demand through commission houses and buying for account of trade interests. There is no doubt but that the government reports just issued afford a sound basis for the expectation of a large crop. However, the fruiting period is only starting, and the weather conditions of the next ninety days will determine the outturn. The trade, although inclined toward lower prices, is afraid to sell heavily ahead because of the uncertainty of future weather conditions, as well as a fear that peace talk may be resumed before the winter ones.

BOND, M'ENANL & CO.

New York, July 3.—(Special.)—At the opening of the market there was large selling in liquidation of contracts, but one of the leading merchant commission houses bought so freely that the offerings were absorbed and the price was sustained throughout the day. The contention of the leading operators is that, while the new crop promises to exceed fifteen million bales, it is as yet only a depressing influence in theory, and that the contingencies of crop development might change the expectation. The fact remains, however, that since the date of the report the weather throughout the cotton states has been most favorable for plant growth.

J. W. JAY & CO.

New York, July 3.—(Special.)—There was strong evidence at the opening of the market this morning that trade interest stood ready to absorb contracts on any decline, hence our market opened with a very steady undertone and continued so during the day. We can reasonably expect good buying by mill interests inasmuch as the demand for cotton goods continues to be strong and quite active, we cannot feel bearish on the situation, even though the government has given us a very bearish report; but we believe that there will be enough good buying in times of weakness to prevent any more than a moderate decline from these levels. We strongly advise taking advantage of any weakness in order to buy the market.

JOHNSTON, STORM & CO.

New York, July 3.—(Special.)—Unexpected buying during the early session advanced prices some 30 points from the opening, and then improvement was fairly held. This was presumed to be covering of short cotton, and the coming holiday made the trade indifferent to new transactions. Apart from this the market was without feature, though the war outlook abroad had a stimulating effect. Apart from that caused by the local and individual demand, general business was limited.

CITY COUNCIL WILL APPEAR IN PARADE

Councilman Ashley, chairman of the city government division of the preparedness parade, extended council and all city officials an oral invitation Monday from the floor of council to take part in the demonstration this morning. The invitation was accepted.

The members of the city government were asked to gather at the Washington street entrance to the Girls' High school at 8:30 o'clock this morning. Each man was requested to be present with an American flag ready to take his place in the line.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO PREPARE MONEY SHEET

charter provides that it shall be adopted by the mayor and general council. It is their duty to pass the sheet.

"The business of preparing the sheet should be left to the finance committee, but any other committee can make it. As a matter of fact, every one of the finance sheets are the work of the comptroller's office to a considerable extent. I can see no legal reason why the mayor cannot serve on a committee to prepare a sheet. And, another thing, council does not have to pass a sheet at the first meeting in June. They can continue to work on the paper after that time until one that will pass council is adopted."

Assistant City Attorney Sam D. Hewlett said about the committee: "I don't think there is any doubt about the actions of this committee being legal. The matter can be referred to any committee when the finance committee is unable to agree on a budget. The action of this special committee would be perfectly legal, in my opinion."

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

The Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose company's leasing of 100 feet of frontage on Whitehall street, just south of their present furniture annex, between Hunter and Mitchell streets, properties owned by John W. Grant and J. J. Eagan, featured yesterday's real estate news. The company will build a five-story building costing $150,000. The aggregate rental during a 20-year term lease will approximate $170,000, it is understood.

Details of this lease are found elsewhere.

Building News.

About the only other news of the day was the issuance of a few residence permits by the city building inspector.

J. A. Fulton took a permit to build a frame dwelling at No. 47 Lee street, costing $1,000.

T. J. and A. L. Day also took a permit to build a store building of brick construction, with ground dimensions of 50x75, at No. 196 Decatur street, costing $1,700.

C. R. Haskins will build a one-story brick veneer dwelling, costing $2,700, at No. 23 Seal Place.

TEACHERS NAMED BY SCHOOL BOARD

Night Schools Are Combined and Position of Director of Drawing Declared Vacant—Several Resignations Accepted.

At the annual meeting of the board of education held yesterday eleven teachers were elected to positions in the high schools, thirty-one teachers were named for new positions in the white grammar schools, thirteen negro teachers were added to the list, six resignations were accepted, the night schools of the city, the girls' night school, the boys' and the commercial, were combined and made into one body to be called the Central Night school and the position of director of drawing was declared vacant.

For the last named action the superintendent asked that he be allowed until September 1 to present names for that place.

It was decided to combine the offices of the supervisor of the high schools and principal of the Boys' High school and have this office filled by W. F. Dykes. The salaries of the principals of the Girls' High, the Tech High and the Commercial High schools were raised from $2,250 to $2,400 per year following this change. The new office will be termed the "principal of the Boys' High school and supervising principal of the high schools." It will pay $2,500 a year.

Resign to Marry.

Several resignations, caused by marriage, were accepted by the board. Leaves of absence for one year were granted Miss Lucile Daniel and Miss Ethel McCree.

It was decided to abolish the course of drawing in the Girls' High school and substitute for it a course in physical training.

Miss Gertrude Beckham was permitted to withdraw her resignation sent in some time ago on account of her health and will be given a place in the system.

The teachers' committee was authorized to have a directory of schools printed for distribution among the teachers, the members of the board and the public.

A. C. Burton, member of the board from the Fifth ward, introduced a resolution providing for a radical change in the school system. The resolution provides for teaching of the studies now taught in the lower grades of the high schools in the higher grades of te grammar schools. It also provided for the re-establishment of an eighth grade in the grammar schools.

New Teachers Named.

New teachers were elected by the board as follows. Other names not listed remain as they were last year:

In the high schools the new teachers are: P. H. Epps, C. C. Clement, Miss Cora B. Swift, Miss Kathleen O'Farrell, Miss Grace Waddill, Miss Sally Stakely, Miss Kate H. Tobin, Miss Katherine Parker, M. L. Neal, T. L. Lewis, W. C. Lowe, writing director.

In the grammar schools, the new teachers are: Miss Wilhelmina Lowe and Miss Ira Jarrell, sixth and fifth grades Crew; Miss Frances Stephens, second grade Calhoun; Miss Ruth Solomon, third grade Davis; Miss Louise Mills, sixth grade Edgewood; Miss Myrta Florrid, fifth grade Edgewood; Miss Helen Marshall, second grade Fair; Miss Frances Russell, sixth grade Forrest avenue; Miss Mary Gray Rushin, third grade Georgia avenue; Miss Alice Lovett, fourth grade Greenwood; Miss Elise Stokes, sixth grade Hill; Miss Margery Clegg, fourth grade in same school; Miss Elizabeth Small, fifth grade Home Park; Miss Sara W. Ray, third grade Home Park; Miss Jeannette Simonson, fifth grade Oakland City; Miss Donnie Mullinaux, sixth grade Lucille avenue; Miss Elizabeth Ingram, third grade Lucille avenue; Miss Ethel Magee, third grade Moreland avenue; Miss Estelle Weaver, fourth and fifth grades Milton avenue; Miss Thelma Keel, second grade Milton avenue; Miss Muriel Mullinaux, third grade Peeples street; Miss Adelaide Setz, fourth grade W. P. Staton; Miss Louise Youngblood, fifth grade Stewart avenue; Miss Beatrice Correll, fourth grade in same school; Miss Annie May Jenkins, first grade Stewart avenue; Miss Ruth Bates, fifth grade State street; Miss Helen Looney, fourth grade State street; Miss Thelma Thomas, third grade State street; Miss Frances Coleman, fifth grade Tenth street; Miss Miriam Comer, second grade in Tenth street; Miss Lois Bryant, fourth grade in Williams street.

Supernumeraries.

New Negro Teachers.

Grammar Schools—Genie Manley, Ossie L. Moore, Selena B. Tinsley, Mayme Turner, Eunice Arnold, Ethel Hudson, Ada Miller, Mary Tinsley, Bessie Landrum, Nannie E. Sims, Nannie L. Tate, Luella M. Holmes, Emma Wimbish.

Supernumeraries—Willie M. Cox, Lizzie M. Bryant, Edith M. Bell, Adella L. Evans, Lillie B. Lewis, Hennie Mae Chairs, Jayne Torbett.

Several changes were made from one school to another by the board. Those names of teachers not listed remain at the schools they taught at last year. In some cases teachers were transferred from one class to another in the same school. This action was not frequent.

The transfers from one school to another were as follows: Miss Ruth Duncan to fourth grade Adair; Miss Evelne Hanes to sixth grade Battle Hill; Miss Annie S. Vogt to sixth grade Adair; Miss Mary K. Crawford to sixth grade Boulevard by her request; Miss Bessie Wickham to third grade English avenue; Miss Susan Stephens to sixth grade Fraser; Miss Carlotta Alexander to fourth grade Exposition Mills; Miss Edna Huson to fifth grade Fair; Miss Ruth Blodgett to second grade Georgia avenue; Miss Norine Sears to sixth grade Highland; Miss Cornelia Cooper to seventh grade Hill; Miss Kathleen Wright to third grade Home Park; Miss Lolla Tuller to seventh grade Lee; Miss Mabel Carlyon to sixth grade Lee; Miss Rosebud Hooper to sixth grade Lee; Miss Janie Solomon to fifth grade Lee; Miss Lottie Moyer to fifth grade Lee; Miss Leith Shannon to fourth grade Lee; Miss Nellie Riordan to first grade Lee; Miss Morah Hall to sixth grade Luckie; Miss Katherine Hurtal to fourth grade Luckie; Miss Blossom Tucker to fifth grade Pryor; Miss Annie McLarty to third grade Moreland; Miss Josephine Fogg to fifth grade State.

GA. LETTER CARRIERS FLOCK TO SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—The Georgia Rural Letter Carriers' convention met at Hotel Savannah at 10 o'clock today. After singing "America," and invocation by Rev. J. J. Wilder, the convention was welcomed to the city by W. J. Pierpont, mayor, and W. H. Oetgen, of the Savannah postoffice. Addresses of welcome were responded to by W. F. Crusselle, of The Atlanta Constitution.

The secretary made a partial report of eligible members for credentials committee. The committee was extended time so as to complete its report for the permanent organization of the convention. A telegram was read from Thomas W. Hardwick, United States senator, expressing his regret for being unable to attend the convention and make the address of the day as promised, as he had been appointed one of the conferees on the part of the senate to decide upon the appropriations for postoffice department. Mr. Hardwick sent a letetr which was read to the convention setting out fully his views and the crisis in which he is now serving his best interests of the rural letter carriers and other classes of employees of the postal service. A telegram of regret and of thanks was sent him by the secretary by vote of the convention.

The convention went through the United States postoffice building and the observatory on top from which a splendid view was had of Savannah river and its course to the sea, as well as of the entire city.

In the afternoon session an interesting address was made by Carrier W. J. Russell, of Athens, Ga., who is now serving the only 50-mile auto route in the eighth district. His roads permitted practically uninterrupted service last winter. His salary is $1,800 per annum.

Fred L. White, chairman of the insurance committee, reported some improvement to the mutual benefit, and offered an amendment to the constitution incorporating an accident benefit feature for those members desiring same. This report is to be given full consideration tomorrow.

The convention is well attended and a larger attendance is expected tomorrow.

Return From Gulf Trip.

Columbus, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—Robert Kenneth and Richard Munn have returned from a boat trip down the Chattahoochee river to the Gulf of Mexico. They made the trip in two batteaus, camping at night on the river banks, and report great sport. The young men were away three weeks.

MORTUARY

Lamar Godwin, Valdosta.

Valdosta, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—The body of Lamar Godwin, who died at Birmingham, Ala., on Saturday night, was brought to this city for interment today. Mr. Godwin was about 32 years old and was reared in Valdosta, where he had hundreds of friends.

His death was a most regrettable one and has elicited expressions of sorrow from people in every walk of life. He is survived by his wife, who was with him at his death; by his mother, Mrs. S. B. Godwin, of Valdosta, and several brothers and sisters. The latter are Mrs. O. T. Hill and Mrs. J. N. Connell, of Valdosta; Mrs. C. E. Thwalt, of Macon; O. S. Godwin, of Dothan, Ala., and Frank Godwin, of Valdosta. Mr. Godwin's death was caused by typhoid fever.

Mrs. Virginia Wiatt, Americus.

Americus, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—Mrs. Virginia Wiatt Huntington, aged 72, died this morning at the home of her son-in-law, Crawford Wheatley. She had been in bad health for some time, but many friends were grieved to learn of her death.

Besides one daughter, Mrs. Crawford Wheatley, she is survived by four sisters, Mrs. J. D. Williams, of East Point; Mrs. Elenore Dickson and Mrs. Adelia Nicholson, of Havannah, Fla., and Mrs. M. H. Gunn, of Orange, Fla.

The funeral will be held at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, with Rev. J. A. Thomas officiating.

Mrs. Elvira Johnson.

Mrs. Elvira Johnson, age 59 years, a resident of 106 English avenue, died Monday at her residence. She is survived by her husband, J. Y. Johnson, three daughters, Mrs. W. N. Morgan, Mrs. H. W. Clay, Mrs. R. A. Davis; four sons, W. A., O. J., L. W., and S. M. Johnson; three sisters, Mrs. John Roberts, Mrs. Z. Jolly and Mrs. William Jolly, of Birmingham, and two brothers, Carl and John Shaw. The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of H. M. Patterson & Son.

Elizabeth Louise Rowan.

Elizabeth Louise Rowan, aged 18 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Rowan, died at the residence in Ormewood Park at 8:30 o'clock Monday night. The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of A. O. & Roy Donehoo. The child is survived by her parents and one brother.

Elliot L. Moore.

Elliot L. Moore, age 15 months, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Moore, 60 Waddell street, died at the residence Monday morning. The body was removed to the establishment of Harry G. Poole.

TAX LAW AMENDMENT PASSED BY COUNCIL

More Businesses Named and New Taxes Assessed When Amendment Is Offered.

Council yesterday placed on its second reading and passed an amendment to the tax ordinance adopted at the last meeting. It was introduced by Councilman Renfroe at the request of Alderman Kelley. The amendment provides for a tax on several businesses not listed in the old tax ordinance.

Councilman Farlinger, chairman of the tax committee, voted for the paper and then gave notice of a reconsideration. He was ruled out of order and told that he must call for a reconsideration at the next meeting.

The amendment provides for the following taxes: Automobile manufacturer, $100; automobile manufacturers of trucks, $75; bicycles and motorcycle supplies, $25; professional bondsmen, $100; billiard and poolroom supplies, $50; elevator dealers, $50; feather renovators, $25; fish and oyster dealers, wholesale, $50; janitors' supplies, $50; motion picture supply houses, $50; motion picture schools, $50; overall manufacturers, $50; office supply companies, $50; peddlers in coal, coke and charcoal, $25; plow factories, $50; peddlers in popcorn, peanuts, etc., $25; railway news companies, $50; roofing manufacturers, $50; tea and coffee dealers delivering premiums from wagons, $200; trunk and leather dealers, $25; vulcanizing shops, $25.

It is reported that Councilman Farlinger, dissatisfied with the action of council toward the tax committee, has decided to resign as chairman of the committee. Councilman Woodall is also considering handing in his resignation for the same reason.

MONTHS OF SERVICE AWAIT GUARDSMEN

general still could co-ordinate the operations of the various regiments now beyond the line, probably with the senior colonel assigned to direct command of the expedition.

Effect on Carranza.

In this connection officials here are known to be considering the effect this course might have on General Carranza's suspicions as to the real purposes of the American government. The expedition, without a general officer in command, would lose something of its significance in military eyes, it is said, and could be viewed as nothing more than the policing force it was designed to be. Some officials believe this might not be lost upon General Carranza and would tend to bear out the assertions of the Washington government that its troops would be withdrawn from Mexico as soon as the danger of bandit raids across the border had been ended.

Submission of the dual command proposal to General Pershing, however, was viewed here as confirming the often reiterated statement that President Wilson is not now considering withdrawal of the expedition from Mexico. Final decision as to his course will await the reply to Secretary Lansing's note demanding that General Carranza explain his hostile orders to his troops in the vicinity of the expeditionary columns.

It can be stated on the highest authority that General Pershing's orders have not been changed in any respect and that the shortening of his line was made necessary by purely military questions of supply and defense, determined by himself and General Funston without reference to Washington. Complete lack of any local supplies of forage as well as the apparent imminence of a Mexican attack in force, led General Pershing to order his men northward.

Good Impression in Mexvico.

Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate, pointed out today that the movement of the American troops toward the border had created a good impression in Mexico City. He was hopeful that the differences between the two governments would be adjusted amicably. As supporting the declarations of his government that it was taking all possible steps to stop bandit operations in the border region, Dr. Arredondo said that as rapidly as General Pershing's men had moved northward, Mexican troops had taken their places and a strict police control of the territory had been maintained.

This situation had already presented itself to state department officials. While the hostile utterances and orders of the de facto government have brought about a crisis, the object which the Washington government has consistently sought, it was pointed out, seems in a fair way toward being accomplished.

There never has been any purpose, it was said, but to withdraw completely from Mexico when the de facto government showed the willingness and ability to furnish adequate military protection to the border region. That now is being given, apparently, in the sections from which General Pershing has withdrawn, although it also has appeared that the Mexican troops are being disposed for the primary purpose of making a display of force against any southern movement by the Americans.

No Change in Wilson Policy.

It is not known whether this aspect of the situation has been called to President Wilson's attention, or whether it may be regarded as justifying further retirement toward the border. Up to this time, however, there has been no change in policy and no movements ordered by General Pershing have been made with any other than military objects.

The state department had no advices today regarding the probable date when a reply to the demand presented more than a week ago might be received. Mr. Arredondo also professed ignorance of his government's plans. The latest intimation reaching the state department was that the Mexican note would be transmitted through the embassy, although the ambassador felt certain it would come through Special Agent Rodgers at Mexico City. Mr. Arredondo emphatically denied suggestions that the communication already had reached him and was being held up for telegraphic instructions to deliver it. That was the course pursued with the long demand for withdrawal of American troops sent several weeks ago which was brougnt by messenger from Mexico City.

The war department press bureau tonight gave out this statement:

"The rumor that the war department is considering the appointment of a commander-in-chief for all field forces along the border and in Mexico is purely speculative and has no foundation in fact."

CHANGE URGED BY FUNSTON.

San Antonio, Texas, July 3.—The division of authority along the Mexican border was recommended to the war department by General Funston. He suggested to the department that if general field operations in Mexico were undertaken greater efficiency would be displayed by the army if three major generals were placed in command.

In his recommendations General Funston suggested that his own command be reduced to a line extending from the gulf to a point a short distance east of El Paso, leaving El Paso in the district that has been placed in charge of General Pershing.

The division of the long border line is a part of the plan worked out for general operations if such should become necessary. To General Funston's staff his recommendations were known, but carefully kept secret as being too vital a part of the army plan for premature publicity. Army officers here doubt that any one major general will be sent south to be in supreme command.

MEXICANS FREE U. S. TROOPER.

El Paso, Texas, July 3.—Corporal Frank Cooke, of the Tenth cavalry, survivor of Carrizal, who was brought to Juarez yesterday, was turned over to the American military authorities at 11:35 a. m. today.

Cooke was taken in an ambulance to the Fort Bliss hospital, where his broken arm was treated. He added nothing to the statement he made last night, in which he charged that Mexicans fired the first shots at Carrizal.

Cooke's story of being fed and cared for by friendly Mexicans aroused hope here that others of the fourteen members of the Tenth cavalry command, engaged at Carrizal now reported missing, may yet be alive. It was pointed out that while it would be practically impossible for a man to survive alone on the desert since the battle, there are numbers of isolated Mexican haciendas in the district at which a wounded soldier might stay indefinitely without word of his whereabouts reaching the American lines.

CORN IS SHIPPED TO HUNGRY MEXICANS.

Brownsville, Texas, July 3.—Acting on an urgent appeal from prominent officials of Matamoros, American Consul Jesse H. Johnson and Mayor Albert Browne, of Brownsville, today requested General Parker, commanding Brownsville district, to permit a quantity of corn to be shipped to the starving population of Matamoros. It is guaranteed to Consul Johnson by those making the appeal that none of the corn will reach the military forces of Mexico.

MEXICANS EXPECT GERMAN SUPPORT.

Laredo, Texas, July 3.—A Mexican newspaper reaching here today contains a cartoon portraying the Mexicans as heroes in the battle at Carrizal. The newspaper says there are 8,000,000 Germans in the United States who will not support the government.

According to a passenger from Saltillo, the governor of Coahuila is conscripting school boys for army service and they are being impressed with the alternative of being shot in their homes. The boys, this passenger said, were being told that if any fighting occurs, it will be on American territory, where the loot they can get will amply repay them for their patriotism.

FARM DEMONSTRATOR RESIGNS POSITION

Valdosta, Ga., July 3.—(Special.)—On account of ill-health, S. L. Dowling, farm demonstrator for Lowndes county, has tendered his resignation, effective at once. Mr. Dowling is one of the most successful farmers in the county and his work as demonstration agent has been of immense help to the farmers. It is not probable that his successor will be secured until next season.

RIPON GIVES BUILDING FOR DEFENSE PURPOSES

Washington, July 3.—Mayor Thayer, of Ripon, Wis., the town which desires to give a $75,000 appropriation for a public building for national defense purposes, today telegraphed Senator Hasting urging action toward that end. A bill has been introduced by Senator Hasting to turn the $75,000 over to the army aviation service.

MUNICIPAL CHAMBER PROPOSED IN COUNCIL

A resolution by Councilman Woodall providing for the appointment of a committee to look into the need for and advisability of establishing a municipal chamber of commerce to be under the control and maintained by city government was introduced yesterday in council. On motion of Councilman Sam Freeman it was referred to the committee on municipal research.

On investigation it was found that there has never been a committee of this kind appointed this year. It is customary for the mayor to appoint a committee on municipal research at the beginning of each year.

The resolution further pointed out that the present chamber of commerce was so busy with "affairs political" and "with other things not directly concerned with a chamber of commerce," that a municipal chamber is needed.

The committee is authorized to call on the citizens for an expression of their views on the subject. It was pointed out that such a bureau could be established and maintained at a small cost.

EVER SALIVATED BY CALOMEL? HORRIBLE!

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks he bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for 50 cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.

True Preparedness

The first step in preparedness for the future is the purchase of a home.

An inexpensive place (not as good as you expect to own some day) may be the stepping stone to ownership of a fine home.

SITUATION WANTED

If I was out of a job today, I'd sit down and write concisely just what I was capable of doing and then I'd put it in the "Situation Wanted" column of The Atlanta Constitution, and ten to one, I'd get a job that I wanted.

You can do it, too. Tell what you can do—make it brief and truthful, and you'll hear from it almost every time. Try it, if you want a job. Cost, very small.
